

RUMANIAN FORCES IN FULL RETREAT BEFORE INVADERS

Berlin Reports Ninth German Army Is Nearing Important Railway Junction Town of Buzeu.

RUSSIANS ON OFFENSIVE IN THE CARPATHIANS

And Also on the Moldavia Front, But Attacks Seem Not to Relieve Rumania. Heavy Artillery Fighting North of Monastir.

New York, December 13.—(By Associated Press from European cables of the day.)—The conquest of Rumania by the Teutonic allies continues. All along the front the Rumanians, who are in retreat, northeastward, and the ninth German army is nearing the important railroad junction town of Buzeu.

In the Carpathians and along the Moldavian frontier the Russians and Germans are still at grips with the Russians the aggressors at most points. There is little, if any, changes in the situation in these regions, however.

Heavy artillery fighting is in progress north of Monastir, Serbia. Otherwise calm prevails. A new feature in the Balkan situation is a report from Sofia that 6,000 Albanians have defeated a force of Italians near Pashina, Epirus, the Italians fleeing.

On the front in France and Belgium, and in the Russian and Austro-Italian theaters there is little activity, aside from artillery duels.

RUMANIAN FRONT STILL UNBROKEN.

Petrograd, December 13.—(Via London.)—The evacuation of Bucharest, although delayed until the last moment, was made in perfect order after the removal or destruction of the war supplies and most of the other properties of possible military advantage to the invaders.

The enormous oil reservoirs at Ploesti were drained as soon as it became evident the Rumanians were about to abandon this important center. Dispatches from the Rumanian front say that in executing their difficult retreat the Rumanians maneuvered skillfully.

By spirited rear guard actions along the road from Ploesti to Buzeu they succeeded in delaying General von Falkenhayn's advance long enough to defeat the flanking movement, which, if successful, would have closed the way to Moldavia and resulted in the capture of a large part of the Rumanian army. The way to Moldavia is still open and the Rumanians, present in an unbroken front, have the opportunity of retreating in good order without danger of encirclement.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE LINE OF TRENCHES FROM THE TEUTONS

Petrograd, December 13.—(Via London.)—Russian troops yesterday captured a line of Teutonic trenches on heights to the south of Agusalva in the region of the Teutonic advance. According to an official statement issued today by the Russian war department, Teuton counter attacks in an effort to regain the lost positions were repulsed with great losses, the statement adds.

Rumanian forces took the offensive south of the Buzeu-Bucharest road yesterday and captured a row of villages, the Russian announcement says, but on being counter attacked the Rumanians were forced to retire. The Rumanian army occupies a front along a line from Buzeu, Sarinas and Urzicheni.

The statement says: "Transylvanian and Rumanian fronts: In the wooded Carpathians our detachments have beaten back a strong enemy attack in the region to the east of Chibena. Enemy scouts who endeavored to approach our positions in the region of Mount Capu were dispersed by our fire.

In the region of the south and southwest of Vale Putna fighting continues, the enemy offering stubborn resistance to our advance.

"South of the valley of the river Trotus our troops gained possession of a line of enemy trenches on the heights eight versts south of Agusalva. Enemy counter attacks with the object of regaining the lost heights were repulsed with great losses to him. We captured a number of prisoners.

"A portion of the Rumanian army which was attacked by the enemy at Buzeu, has retired to the south.

MEETING TO DISCUSS FOOD PRICES CALLED

Call Issued Wednesday by President of the Atlanta Woman's Club.

Food prices and means by which they might be lowered or at least prevented from going higher, will be discussed at a mass meeting of Atlanta citizens to be held next Saturday night. This decision, reached by the Atlanta Woman's club, was announced last night by the club through its president, Mrs. J. N. McEachern.

Representative commission brokers of foodstuffs, wholesale dealers, cold storage men, transportation officials, retail merchants and housewives will be invited to participate in the proposed discussion, and out of the meeting and discussion of the foods and prices problem from every possible viewpoint it is hoped that a common ground will be reached upon which the Atlanta consumer and merchant may co-operate to mutual advantage.

The place at which the meeting will be held will be announced later.

SOLICITING CASES CHARGED IN TRIAL

Recorder Probes Charge That C. P. Sims and G. C. Battle Violated City Ordinance—Both Acquitted.

The charge that several Atlanta attorneys are soliciting business from prisoners confined at the police barracks and "tipped off" to possible "fee cases" among prisoners, was brought against police magistrate yesterday during the trial of two Atlanta lawyers.

It seems that two young boys confined at police barracks were visited by Attorney G. C. Battle and C. P. Sims. The youths were confined awaiting word from their parents in Detroit. There was no charge docketed against them, the police merely holding them as "runaways."

Mr. Battle was charged with entering the cell and offering to get the boys out of jail in violation of a city ordinance prohibiting attorneys soliciting business from prisoners. Mr. Battle testified he was sent to interview the boys by Attorney Sims. The charge against Sims was dropped and lodged against Battle when he admitted this fact. Mr. Sims introduced a letter as evidence that his services were asked. The letter was signed by a man named John Winters. Winters will face Recorder Johnson this afternoon and be given a chance to explain where he got his information. The cases against both Sims and Battle were dismissed.

According to testimony, Chief Mayo had cautioned officers in charge not to give out the names of prisoners, and had posted a special policeman to see that no outsider got hold of the names, as the result of an order from the police commission. The special officer was detailed to find out if possible the source of the "leak."

Attorneys Sims and Battle declared they had never received information from policemen and denied they had ever solicited business in the barracks. Police Commissioner Andy King last night stated that it is the belief of the police commission that information is "leaking" out and "soliciting" is resulting.

GUARDSMAN SENTENCED FOR DEFYING U. S. CALL

Wilson Approves Findings in Gardner Case—Warning to Over 10,000 Guardsmen.

Washington, December 13.—President Wilson today approved the action of an army court in sentencing Lewis O. Gardner, of the New Mexico militia, to a year in prison for refusing to obey the federal call for border duty last June, but remitted the prison sentence because the case had been pressed as a test.

War department officials regard the decision as important because of the warning it gives to more than 10,000 enrolled members of the national guard who have now appeared for federal service.

Army officers say the right of the federal government to enforce service of national guardsmen has been well established and a precedent set for the treatment of future "slackers." They claim, however, that the fact that between 10,000 and 15,000 enrolled members of the guard never have been located for federal service constitutes a serious menace to the whole national guard system, and expect to have this point fully presented to the military committee of congress during the present session.

A special report on the mobilization of the guard is now before Secretary Baker, but his conclusions have not been made public.

AUSTRIAN CABINET HAS QUIT OFFICE, LONDON REPORTS

London, December 13.—The Austrian government has resigned. This announcement is made in a Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam.

The emperor has accepted the resignation of the Austrian ministry, according to a Vienna dispatch received by Reuter by way of Amsterdam, and has entrusted Alexander Spitzmueller with the formation of a new cabinet.

Herr Spitzmueller is a former minister of commerce and a former director of the Kredit Anstalt.

BELGIANS EXILED OUT OF KINDNESS

Germany Tells the United States That Belgians Are Deported and Forced to Work for Their Own Good.

Berlin, December 13.—(By Sayville.) Germany's reply to the inquiries of the United States into the matter of the Belgian unemployed and the deportation of Belgians is published today in the Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, and is given out by the Overseas News Agency as follows:

"The government of the United States of America has protested against the transportation of Belgian working men to Germany, and against their compulsory employment for work, basing this in the view that these measures are in contravention of humane principles and of international practice as to the treatment of the population in occupied territory. The German government thinks that the government of the United States has been incorrectly informed regarding the cause and the execution of the measures, and therefore considers it appropriate first to explain the facts in detail.

"The Belgian unemployment for a considerable time has been extending in a perplexing fashion among the industrial working men. This prevalence of unemployment has been caused by the English policy of isolation, which has cut off Belgian industry from the importation of raw material and the exportation of manufactured goods, and has thus brought the greater part of Belgian industry to a standstill.

"1,500,000 Dependent Belgians. "By this measure almost half of the workmen in Belgian factories, numbering altogether in round figures 1,200,000, were deprived of the possibility of earning a living, and many more than half a million Belgians, who formerly supported themselves by industrial work, were made dependent upon public relief. Adding the members of their families, this number is increased three-fold, or in round figures, one million and a half persons.

"From the standpoint of Belgian economic right, upon which these unemployed inflict a heavy burden, as also from the standpoint of public order and public morals, which are most dangerously affected by general unemployment and the accompanying consequences, this situation makes it extremely desirable and urgent that efficient measures for improvement be taken. This necessity has been recognized and pointed out also by fair-minded Belgians and a long series of reports that Greece was assembling an army in the interior to attack the entente Saloniki forces in the rear simultaneously with assaults by the central powers on the Greek front to the north in Macedonia.

ALLIED DIPLOMATS READY TO DEPART.

London, December 13.—A Reuter's dispatch from Athens, dated December 12, says that the Greek government is optimistic in regard to the international situation, but that the entente demands have not yet been formulated, as all the legations have not received full instructions. In the meantime practically all the entente diplomatics have embarked on allied ships and every arrangement has been made for the departure of the entente diplomatics. There is no direct news from Athens in regard to the regrets expressed by the Greek minister at Paris on behalf of King Constantine's government, respecting the attack made upon the British and French marines in the Greek capital.

WHAT GREECE ASKS OF ENTEENTE ALLIES.

Berlin, December 13.—(By Sayville.) Demands said to have been made by the Greek government in negotiations with the entente powers are contained in reports received from Athens by way of Sofia, according to the Overseas News Agency. These reports state that the number of Greek reservists voluntarily enlisting in the service of King Constantine has increased and now amounts to 100,000 men.

"In the negotiations of the entente powers with Greece, apparently England maintains moderate views, while France asks for most reckless measures. Greece demands unhampered action by the Greek government in old Greece, by the return of all railroad lines to Larissa, that all telegraph and telephone stations shall be placed in Greek hands, the withdrawal of the entente troops from Greek soil in the whole district of Larissa, the restoration of confiscated Greek merchant ships and the abolition of the blockade against the importation of food.

"Greece on her part offers to give an obligation that she will undertake no hostilities against the entente. The Greek government is said to have informed the entente powers in a firm tone that it has decided to make no other concessions, and to defend the honor and dignity of Greece against arbitrary measures.

"Public opinion in Greece is reported to be so excited that any inconsiderate step or tactless action may set fire to the powder case."

GREEK STEAMERS BEING DETAINED.

London, December 13.—Lloyd's reports that the Greek steamer Etichia Vergatti, Princess Sophia, Mikellis, Eriassos and Constantine Embricos have been detained at St. Vincent, Cape Verde islands.

This indicates an extension of the area over which the blockade of Greek shipping applies and also that the Portuguese government is co-operating with its allies to make it effective.

FOR MORE PROHIBITION FRENCH PREMIER MOVES

Paris, December 13.—Premier Briand announced to the chamber of deputies today he had decided to ask parliament to enact legislation providing for a further restriction in the consumption of alcoholic beverages throughout France.

GREEKS BATTLING WITH THE FRENCH SOUTH OF SALONIKI

Berlin Reports That Engagement Is in Progress North of Katerina—Greek Regulars Are Engaged.

KATERINA IS CAPTURED BY THE GREEK FORCES

According to Berlin Reports—Berlin Also Claims That the Greeks Have Pierced the French Line.

Berlin, December 13.—(Via Sayville.) Fighting is in progress between Greek regular troops and the French the Overseas News Agency announces. The news agency says the fighting is taking place north of Katerina, about 60 miles southwest of Saloniki, and that the Greeks have a force of 5,000 men.

The town of Katerina has been captured by the Greeks, the news agency says, the French line of positions having been pierced. The Greeks are said to have taken up a line between Borotzko and Katerina.

The situation in the region of Katerina has been somewhat obscure since late November, when French and Greek regular troops were reported to be apparently on the point of a clash over possession of the city. There has been previous trouble there between royalist and Venizelist forces and General Sarraill, the entente commander, sent a French force to occupy the town, presumably in the carrying out of his purpose to establish a neutral zone along the frontier of old Greece.

On November 24 a news agency dispatch from Athens reported that the Greek royalist troops had refused to evacuate Katerina and that General Sarraill had notified the Greek government that unless they did he would be compelled to use force. No further specific reports on conditions in the vicinity of Katerina have been received, but since that time has occurred the fighting between the Greek and French forces in Athens and vicinity with concurrent reports that Greece was assembling an army in the interior to attack the entente Saloniki forces in the rear simultaneously with assaults by the central powers on the Greek front to the north in Macedonia.

LAMAR DENIED FREEDOM. Judge Newman Turns Down Habeas Corpus Application.

David Lamar's latest effort to gain his freedom from the United States penitentiary, where he is serving a two years' sentence following his conviction in New York on a charge of representing himself to J. P. Morgan as being Congressman Palmer, of Pennsylvania, failed yesterday, when United States District Judge William T. Newman refused his application for a writ of habeas corpus.

The application for the writ was made by A. J. Orme, attorney for Lamar, and was based upon the dual grounds that Lamar's term of sentence expired December 4, 1916, and that the court whence he was sent here was without jurisdiction in sentencing him to serve in the Atlanta penitentiary.

Mr. Orme presented the application to Judge Newman Tuesday and it was discussed in chambers Tuesday afternoon and again Wednesday afternoon, with Assistant United States District Attorney Henley a party to the conference. The court was unable to see in the subject if he did speak. Much interest is felt here in the petition to be delivered tomorrow night at St. Louis before the League to Enforce Peace by Senator Stone, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee. There is some discussion, however, that the senator, if he touches upon the subject, will make a statement as a spokesman of the administration.

The trend of public opinion in Great Britain, France and Russia is being followed closely, and the American ambassadors in those countries have been instructed to forward promptly any available indication of official views.

Wilson Confers With House.

President Wilson's only conference on the subject today was with Colonel E. M. House, his personal secretary and adviser. It was suggested during the day that the president might discuss the situation to be faced by the administration at the annual conference of governors here tomorrow, but he had not decided whether he would accept an invitation to address the governors and had given no indication of what subject he would discuss.

CANADA TORPEDO BOAT LOST WITH ALL HANDS

The Grille Goes Down En Route From Halifax to Bermuda.

Halifax, N. S., December 13.—The entire crew of the Canadian torpedo boat Grille, consisting of forty-four men and a boy, are believed to have been lost through the sinking of the vessel in the gale which swept this coast last night.

The Grille, which was formerly the yacht Winchester, owned in New York, was the fastest boat of the Canadian patrol fleet. She left here for Bermuda Monday afternoon and twenty-four hours later radio messages brought word that she had been disabled by the storm and was in need of immediate assistance. This was followed in a few minutes by a message from the Grille saying "now sinking."

Since then no word of her has been received, although vessels dispatched to the rescue have thoroughly searched the sea.

The master of naval service announced today that he feared the Grille had been lost with all hands. The position of the torpedo boat when last heard from was seven miles off Little Hope Light on the southern shore of Nova Scotia, about half way between Lunenburg and St. John's. Steamers which were sent to the aid of the Grille were unable to discover any trace of the missing vessel.

LOCAL DISTRIBUTION SWELLS LIVING COST

Washington, December 13.—Some idea of the extent to which expenses of local distribution of commodities enter into the cost of living was given today in a report on a preliminary survey of the subject by the census bureau, showing that in Washington the cost of delivery is about 8 per cent of retail prices.

The bureau's investigation covered four classes of commodities—ice, coal and wood, milk and department store merchandise. Secretary Redfield, of the commerce department, said he considered that the results justified Motion picture and retail prices.

Santa Claus Ready For Trip to Border To Cheer Soldiers

While Many Comfort Bags Have Been Received, Some 500 More Are Needed in Order That Every Man May Be Remembered.

Practically the entire office force of Assistant General J. Van Holt Nash was playing Santa Claus Wednesday, sorting out and getting ready for shipment a big pile of "comfort bags" which the women of Atlanta have made for the soldier boys of Atlanta who will spend their Christmas on the Mexican border.

They are of many wonderful colors and designs that only the feminine mind and hand can contrive. They contain all kinds of little intimate and useful objects and not a few things that will bring thoughts of home and mayhap a tear or two to the soldier on the border when he opens his bag Christmas morning. Many of these bags contain Bibles and New Testaments. Many contain writing pads bearing the inscription: "Write to your mother." The address cards attached to many of these bags, through a whimsical touch of sentiment, or perhaps, through genuine thoughtfulness of the sender, bear the inscription: "To an unmarried private."

Another bag is addressed "For a brave unknown soldier boy."

One bag is addressed as follows: "General Walter A. Harris: Give this to the man who is down and out, and alone. If not enough bags divide with another in like condition."

Well, there will not be enough bags, at the rate bags are coming in at present. There were about 500 bags on hand Wednesday, which is about half enough. These bags are divided into two great piles, one in which the bags are addressed to some soldier whose name is given, while the other pile has been designated "Unknown Soldier."

There will be some 500 or 600 soldier boys from Atlanta at the border Christmas morning who are likely to think "the girls they left behind" are a rather "cute" unless some of the time will elapse before the girls get busy in the next few days.

COLD RECEPTION GIVEN TEUTONIC PEACE TENDER IN ENTEENTE COUNTRIES

WILSON IN DOUBT ABOUT HIS COURSE

German Peace Note Will Be Transmitted Promptly, but No Decision Has Been Reached as to Suggestions to Allies.

Washington, December 13.—Serious consideration is being given by President Wilson to the possibility that any exchanges of views that may follow the peace proposals of the central powers to the entente allies may develop an opportunity to bring forward the suggestion for a league of nations to enforce permanent peace. He has reached no decision, however, as to the course to be followed by the United States, and probably will not, pending the arrival of the official cablegram containing the communication handed Charge Grew by the German government.

The cablegram had not been received at the state department tonight and in the meantime all officials were most reticent about discussing the situation.

It is understood that the communication will be transmitted promptly to the entente governments regardless of what attitude may be adopted by the United States, and for this reason there is a general belief that any steps taken by the United States on its own account will come after formal delivery of the proposals from one set of belligerents to the other.

It is realized that the American course probably must be guided largely by the receipt of the Teutonic offer in the entente countries, although it is regarded as certain that either informally or formally, quietly or publicly, the government here will find a way of displaying its interest in the restoration of peace. Most officials think a considerable time will elapse before the communication is delivered before a formal reply is framed by the allies, and that in the meantime a very clear idea of what that reply is to be and how any attempt at mediation by neutrals would be viewed will be gained through diplomatic channels.

The trend of public opinion in Great Britain, France and Russia is being followed closely, and the American ambassadors in those countries have been instructed to forward promptly any available indication of official views.

20 MEN LOSE THEIR LIVES IN COAL MINE EXPLOSION

Seven Others Injured—Gas and Powder Caused the Explosion.

Pittsburg, Kan., December 13.—Twenty miners were killed and seven injured in an explosion late today in the Reedy & Ryan coal mine at Stone City, 15 miles southwest of here. The injured men will recover, it was believed.

A combination gas and powder explosion is said to have caused the disaster, but state mine experts have not yet been able to penetrate the mine. With one exception the loss of life today was the greatest in the history of Kansas coal mining, mine officials said tonight. Forty men were killed in 1889 in an explosion in a mine at Frontenac.

GOVERNMENT GIVES UP W. & A. RIGHT-OF-WAY

Relinquishes Claim to Valuable Property Adjoining Cemetery at Chattanooga.

The Western and Atlantic railroad commission has been notified that the United States government has relinquished its claim to a strip of right-of-way of the Western and Atlantic railroad adjoining the national cemetery at Chattanooga.

This closes negotiations extending over a period of about fifteen years. The strip is eleven feet wide and about half a mile long, and is very valuable. Its value to the railroad is enhanced by reason of the fact that it will permit of the installation of an additional track. The original right-of-way at this point is 66 feet wide. The national cemetery was occupying 11 feet of this width, and the Cincinnati Southern railroad occupies 26 feet more of it, thus leaving the state road but a very narrow strip. The Cincinnati Southern is still maintaining its fight against the state's recovering the part of the Western and Atlantic right-of-way which it occupies, and it appears that it may be impossible to make an effective fight for the recovery of this property until the present lease of the road expires.

DIVIDEND IS DECLARED BY ATLANTA TRUST CO.

Farm Loan Department Has Been Added and Trust Department Work Extended.

The Atlanta Trust company has declared a 3 per cent dividend on its capital stock of $500,000. The dividend of $15,000 will be paid out to the 300 stockholders on December 30. The stock in the Atlanta Trust company is held by representative business men in 80 different towns in Georgia.

The Atlanta Trust company has recently enlarged the scope of its business by adding a farm loan department and extending the work of its trust department. The directors and officers of this corporation have adopted the policy of going after a volume of business on a small margin and making the business pay without taxing any one client. The newly-established farm loan department of this corporation is making a specialty of aiding the farmer who wants to break away from the one-crop idea that cotton is the only money crop. They are conducting a campaign advocating live stock and diversified crops for the southern farmer. The officers of the company are: Frank S. Etheridge, president; George S. Lowndes, vice president; Turner C. Tripp, treasurer; Charles F. Everitt, secretary and trust officer; Jack J. Spalding, counsel; and H. O. Reeve, manager of the farm loan department. The trustees are: Arnold Broyles, Dr. P. Phinizy Calhoun, Hamilton Douglas, Jr., Samuel N. Evans, James S. Floyd, Robert L. Foreman, J. M. B. Hoxsey, Alex C. King, Mitchell C. King, Charles B. Lewis, George S. Lowndes, John Morris and W. P. Making Investigation

Of School Conditions

W. J. Lowenstein, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee on education, and W. G. Cooper, secretary of the chamber, have been making a tour of the city schools, accompanied by Superintendent L. M. Landrum, to see the accommodations offered by the schools, in order to present them to the public in photographs and reports. The committee will request the Fulton County Medical society to appoint a small committee, including oculists and sanitary experts, to visit the schools and make a special report on those subjects. Very soon the chamber of commerce will begin to print pictures and reports on the schools.

DEKALB COMMISSIONER IS AFTER SPEED FIENDS

Decatur, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)—County Commissioner R. J. Freeman has instructed the members of the county police force to keep a careful lookout for violators of the state law which sets a speed limit of 30 miles an hour for automobiles and to arrest and bring in all offenders. It is expected this will put a quietus on the speed fiends who have been burning up the roads in various sections of the county and especially the splendid road between Decatur and Stone Mountain, a part of which has recently been oiled and is a great temptation to speeders.

We've Arranged Several "Gift Corners" Through the Store

Wherein Christmas shopping can be done with the added pleasure that comes of finding things nicely displayed, helpfully arranged. And what is more, we have no doubt that these little Gift Corners will offer many suggestions to those who are undecided.

The first of the Gift Corners is on the right of the main aisle, just before you reach the elevators. It is

The French Flower Shop

Here are the daintiest of little velvet flowers that Paris sends out—and each little buttoniere and corsage comes in a round or oval box almost as attractive as the flowers. Buttonieres of violets, 50c; of roses and apple blossoms, $1.00; corsage of Valley lilies and pansies, $2.00; great roses of gold and rose shades with dorins in the center, $2.00; morning-glory corsages with silk cords, $3.50.

The Novelty Corner

So we have called the section just back of the elevators, where are arranged the perfumes, the French Ivory and countless small novelties. Melba perfume sets, in rich satin lined boxes, at $2.25 to $10.00, some of these contain face powder and cream, talcum powder, sachet powder, the extract and toilet water. Little sachet pillows are 25c to $2.00. Atomizers at 50c to $3.50, those of cut glass begin at $1.00. Hand-painted bottles, labeled for different bathroom essentials are $1.50.

Then, a wealth of cretonne desk and sewing sets. Little baskets of rose leaves to perfume the boudoir, 50c.

Rose petals in organdie bags, 10c.
Lavender sticks in boxes, 50c.
Dolls that are lingerie ribbon holders, $1.
Incense burners, Chinese images, 35c.
Boxes of bulbs, attractive boxes, 25c.
Envelopes of recipes for frozen desserts and cooling drinks, 25c.

Stampkraft books—that tell children's stories, each stamp tells its part and is to be placed in the book accordingly, 10c, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

The Handkerchiefs

The world's great little handkerchief island seems transported to Atlanta, that you may select the very kind that you would have. And incidentally it is worth noting that the great bulk of our handkerchiefs come to us directly from Ireland. This explains the finer qualities that we show at any given price.

The Art Goods

Many attractively shaped sweet grass baskets, boxes and trays, priced up to $3.00.

Knitting bags of gaily colored silks and cretonnes with basket bottoms, $2 to $9.

Plated silver embroidery rings in Christmas boxes, 75c.

Satin picture frames with tiny French roses and gold lace, $3.00.

Guest bags of powder puffs of satin, of gold lace and satin, $3.00 to $5.00.

Powder boxes to match, $3.00; talcum, 75c; pin cushions, 35c, 50c, $1.00.

The Picture Gallery

We have converted the whole width of the Bazaar, across the front into a picture gallery, and in it are hung reproductions of the masterpieces of all times; each in a frame appropriate to the picture.

It is a gift corner of the rarest and certainly most helpful kind.

You see the pictures hanging, you see them as they will look in the home, and prices are most moderate.

Housekeepers' Corner

of beddings—the rich, superb kinds that every housekeeper glories in—lately arrived are some of the finest blankets we have ever had. They come in individual boxes—double bed size, all white, double blankets, edged with wide bands of satin in light blue, gold, lavender, and old rose, $12.50, $16.50 and $17.50.

Single blankets of the weight of the average pair, white on one side and pink, light blue or lavender on the other, with a plaid border to match, $16.50, $17.50 and $18.50.

Old rose comfortables, 6x7-ft. size, brocaded satin on one side, plain border, French satin back, filled with lamb's wool, $17.50.

Silk comfortables in checked, tan, pink and blue with plain 9-inch satin border, and back to match, $17.50, 6x7-ft. size.

An exquisite brocaded old rose satin covered comfortable with plain silk back, 6x7-ft. size is $25.00; another is $35.00.

Lamb's wool comfortables, 6x7-ft. size, covers, $6.50; silkoline covers with plain borders, $7.50.

Great and heavy automobile robes, plain and rich plaids, $7.50 to $25.00.

Plush lap robes, as warm as toast, 2 pockets, $12.50 to $15.00.

Oregon City lap robes, the quaint, indian-esque patterns, $6.50 and $7.50.

The Hall of Fame's

S. B. TURNER AND WIFE BOTH MAKE PHENOMENAL GAIN

Gains Sixteen Pounds, and His Wife Gains Thirty-One Pounds—Husband Suffered for Over Eight Years.

"I'm sixteen pounds heavier than I was when I began taking Tanlac, and, honestly, I haven't felt as well in eight years as I do now," said S. B. Turner, well-known painter, of 112 Thirty-first street, Savannah.

"I was continually trying for eight long years to get rid of indigestion," continued Mr. Turner. "I used all kinds of medicine, and even tried starving it out. All my efforts failed to bring relief. Every now and then some new trouble would show up, and my condition kept getting worse all the time. My stomach got so weak and out of order, about all it would stand was a little milk and eggs. I could eat no meats or vegetables at all. My liver was torpid and sluggish, and I was so nervous I couldn't get any rest or sound sleep at all. I would often have dizzy spells and my head would swim. I wouldn't risk myself on my ladder for fear of falling, and I would have to lie down before getting relief. I also had rheumatism in my right leg, which was very painful and disabled me so at times I could hardly get about. I was easily irritated, and the least thing out of the ordinary would tear my nerves to pieces and completely upset me. I was away down in weight and was so weak and lifeless I simply had to use force of will to keep going at all.

"After my wife gained thirty-one pounds on three bottles of Tanlac and relief from her four years of suffering, I began taking it myself. Well, sir, it's an actual fact. I have gone up in weight from one hundred and thirty-two pounds to one hundred and sixty-eight—a net gain of sixteen pounds—and I have taken only two bottles of the medicine. All of my nervousness is gone and I can now sleep and rest fine every night. My appetite never better than it is now, and when mealtime comes I'm always hungry, and can eat anything I want without feeling a sign of indigestion afterwards. I don't have headache at all now, and I have had no more of it since I began taking Tanlac. I don't have even a touch of the rheumatism now, and I can run up and down my ladders as well as I ever could, and my head doesn't swim at all. It's a pleasure for me to recommend Tanlac, and I wouldn't take one hundred dollars for the good it has done my wife and myself.

Duch's ? ? ? ? This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called Freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn drops up and lifts right out without pain.

He says Freezone is an ether compound which dries immediately, and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce of Freezone will cost little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

MRS. INNES MAY NEVER FACE TRIAL IN COURT

Suffering From Pulmonary Tuberculosis in Advanced Stage, Says Dr. Paulin.

That Mrs. Ida May Innes, in the Fulton county tower awaiting trial upon an indictment in eight counts charging larceny after trust from Mrs. Elsie Neime Dennis and Miss Beatrice Neime, may never face a trial court is indicated by the report filed with Judge Ben H. Hill yesterday, of Dr. Edgar Paulin, whom the court directed recently to make a thorough physical examination of the noted prisoner.

Dr. Paulin's report upon Mrs. Innes, suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis in its advanced stages.

One of Mrs. Innes' lungs is entirely involved, says Dr. Paulin's report, and the other is becoming so with alarming rapidity, and he recommends that she be removed from the tower forthwith and confined in the Battle Hill sanitarium. This, it was said at the court house Wednesday, will probably be done.

Mrs. Innes was indicted jointly with her husband, Victor E. Innes, and her last summer was tried, convicted and sentenced to serve seven years in the penitentiary. His case has been taken up to the state appellate court, and Mrs. Innes' trial at any rate would be deferred pending the outcome of his hearing before the higher court. Prior to Dr. Paulin's report upon Mrs. Innes, physical status the solicitor general, E. B. T. Williams, had announced that her trial probably might be had during the January term of court.

Efforts were renewed to bring about her release under bond, that she might be taken to the Battle Hill sanitarium.

civilization would assent to a peace which would leave Germany's military powers unbroken?

"This is not the time for Germany to talk peace unless she merely wants to create in neutrals like the United States the impression that she, in a humanitarian spirit, desires to end the war and that it is only incorrigible, rapacious England and her allies that prevent it?"

Germany Plays to Neutrals.

"Germany," says The Westminster Gazette, "is aware that she is producing great unrest among neutrals, and it is to them rather than to us, in the first instance, that she is making her appeal."

It is here that Germany has prepared her ground, and it is here that we have to meet her. We must be careful from the outset not to be maneuvered onto ground on which she shall seem to be in the wrong. The allies must not refuse to listen to any proposals laid before them in a regular manner, but they must say plainly that their engagement to act together is incontestable; that all proposals must be made to them jointly, and that none will have the slightest chance of being considered which imply that any of the allies should betray others. If it is proposed that the west leave the central powers to do as they please with Serbia, Greece and Rumania, in return for their agreement to accept the peace of march will end before it has begun."

Genuine Bid for Peace.

It would be a profound mistake, the Manchester Guardian writes, to be deceived by the advance by Germany as "a mere move in the diplomatic game, and as designed not to achieve its ostensible purpose, but as aiming merely at impressing neutrals and putting her enemies in the wrong."

"The thing is much too serious for that," the Guardian continues. "Germany is suffering deeply from the war, as, indeed, is every nation engaged in it."

Notwithstanding the capture of supplies in Rumania, this newspaper says, "grave pressure will continue to be felt and it is likely to increase," the Guardian adds.

"It is unquestionably on Germany's part a genuine bid for peace, and ought to be so treated by our own government and rational opinion here. It is not necessary to mediate between a formal armistice nor to admit of the intervention of any third party, but the exchange of views should be immediate and direct. After what has happened an interchange there must be. To refuse to do so is to put ourselves hopelessly in the wrong in the eyes of all neutrals—and we must add, in the eyes of most reasonable people here, but to forego a very real advantage, for it would be no advantage to us to be definitely and not in mere general terms, what are the objects which Germany now seeks to extract from the war, while the German people would know with equal certainty what are the objects the entente powers propose to extract from it."

It is the opinion of the Guardian that this would produce a real peace in Germany which it says heretofore has been prevented.

No whitening of terms, however, Referring to the terms formulated by Mr. Asquith and Viscount Grey, the Guardian says there must be no whitening of terms, but the responsibility of rejecting them must be thrown on Germany.

BLOOD ON GERMANY, DECLARES BRIAND, IN WARNING FRANCE

Paris, December 13.—The Chamber of Deputies, by a vote of 314 to 165 this evening adopted a resolution of confidence in the new government.

Premier Briand delivered a speech on the German imperial chancellor's peace proposal, in which he warned the country to beware of France's enemies. He declared that France's enemies had been the premises than the other members of the allied conference.

"I have the duty to place my country on guard against possible poisoning," said M. Briand amid applause. "When a country arms itself to the teeth, when it seizes men everywhere in violation of the laws of nations and entices labor upon its shores, I should be guilty if I did not cry out to my country, 'look out; take care!'"

"No one can say I have ever been unduly optimistic," said M. Briand. "But today, however, more than ever, we must have the conviction that victory is certain."

"In a war such as this, in which entire nations confront each other, decisive results cannot be attained rapidly. It is true that the valiant Rumanians have bent under the first shock, but let us examine the facts more closely. The Rumanian army has not been destroyed; it has been reorganized with the help of the gallant Russian army. Tomorrow, in the front of from 250 to 300 miles will be formed down the river. The question is far from being settled. And if the enemy armies now fighting against Rumania were not held there, you must admit, they would be employed on some other front."

"A Clumsy Trap."

"A clumsy trap," is the caption under which the morning papers print Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's speech in the Reichstag. The speech is a masterpiece of evasion, and it is a pity that it is so. "We are no longer in the presence of the trial of the peace," the speaker appeals to interviewers and newspaper articles. Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg summed up the situation in a few words, but he was to be confronted with an act. We do not know if at Berlin there are people so naive as to imagine that the allies are likely to swallow this demagogic, evening-up speech. The events in Rumania, in any case Field Marshal von Hindenburg's statement shows that there is no such illusion. What is still more certain is that the treacherous German aims at something else than genuine peace. It seeks an internal and external effect. In Germany it is intended to convince the people that the government is responsible for the sacrifices imposed upon them. Abroad it desires to persuade neutrals that the allies are pursuing a policy of ambition. That is the explanation of the pretended moderation in the tone of the speech.

Emphasizes Weakness.

"The speech merely emphasizes essential weakness which temporary successes cannot hide," The Petit Journal continues. "It is because Germany knows she cannot win that she tries to end the war. Her plan, however, is doomed. It will fail before the inevitable resolution of the allies."

The Matin characterizes the peace proposals as "mere talk," saying: "They contain no territorial, political or other conditions which could serve as a basis for discussion. Germany simply says for the hundredth time she never desired war and wishes only to protect her rights; and that if her enemies will listen she will throw the blame of further bloodshed on them. The device is too obvious to be deceivable any but the most ignorant."

"Another motive is the necessity of making Germany accept the sufferings and sacrifices of another winter campaign. If only the civilian population had to endure this which much harm would be done, but the army is beginning to feel the strain. During the last few weeks the food has been reduced, and in three months' time they will be very poor indeed. Germany is compelled to talk peace, but she does it as vaguely as possible in the hope of spreading dissension among her enemies and keeping her coalition together."

GERMAN CONDITIONS TO BE SUBMITTED.

Berlin, December 13.—(Via London.) Although Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg did not disclose the definite proposals which Germany and her allies are prepared to make peace in his speech before the Reichstag, such proposals are ready and will be communicated to the entente powers if the chancellor's offer should fall upon responsive ears.

The indefinite adjournment of the Reichstag by its own decision, and the government's free hand to conduct further negotiations and is regarded as tantamount to a vote of confidence.

Catholic Organ Pleased.

Germany's Catholic organ, the Express, expresses especial pleasure that the central powers appeal to the pope as well as to the neutral states. The paper approves the peace overtures which it terms the privilege of the stronger power and a performance of the holiest of duties to humanity and Christian morality.

The newspaper declares that the emperor's note is a document of the love of peace which no man should be greater, sterner, or go to further length and which proves that Germany, despite its military successes, does not wish to strike in cold blood to destroy its enemies, but in consequence with its responsibility to God and the world offers them the hand of peace. Only a fool, it declares, will refuse to accept an indication of weakness.

The question is, however, adds the newspaper, whether Germany's proposals will not reject the overture as frivolously as they started the war. Should they do this it declares, then there will be no one who can fall to the task of restoring the world's peace. The German people to a man stand behind him "in holy unity and holier anger if his well-meant intentions are frivolously balked."

Then circumstances will have to take the course which a just God placed in our hands when He gave up the power which our enemies already feel so acutely and which they will have to feel until the end."

Germany Wants to Seem Victor.

The Kreuz Zeitung expresses the fear that any peace which is the result of defeat would prove a great danger for the future of the world.

Die Post doubts the expediency of the peace offer, but says it is glad to neutralize with its responsibility to God and the world offers them the hand of peace. Only a fool, it declares, will refuse to accept an indication of weakness.

The Tages Zeitung says it wishes Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg had emphasized the fact that Germany's peace proposals were offered as a victor and that the peace terms must adequately reward Germany for the sacrifices she has made.

The socialist organ, the Vorwarts, sees a great and unique feature in the offer, in that it breaks with the old tradition, that the defeated side must ask for the consequences of the war. The newspaper says that it belongs to the fact that French socialists and Russia and thus are committed to Russia's recent peace proposals. The newspaper says that it belongs to the fact that French socialists and Russia and thus are committed to Russia's recent peace proposals.

FAKE PRESSING CLUB MAN BUSY IN ATLANTA

In the hope that some of the Atlanta housewives will be warned by her experience Mrs. Willie Blandford, of 76 West Peachtree, told The Constitution Wednesday night that she had been deceived by a man who pretended to be the pressing club man, who she called for Dr. Blandford's suit during the day.

"The man called between 9 and 10 o'clock," said Mrs. Blandford. "And asked for Dr. Blandford's suit. Then I asked him which suit he wanted, and he said the blue one, which proved to be an expensive one. Thinking he was the pressing club man I readily handed out the blue suit. In about four minutes he had the suit pressed, and another, the real pressing club man, was there for the suit, which had gone to the pretender."

SHORT LINE RAIL MEN MEET IN WASHINGTON

Washington, December 13.—Representatives of about 150 southern railroads attended the meeting of the Short Line Railroad Association of the South here today and planned to present complaints later in testimony before the congressional railroad investigating committee.

Senator Hardwick, of Georgia, in an address at dinner tonight suggested that short line roads explain their case direct to congress and seek redress of any wrong they may feel have been imposed by unfair legislation or practices of larger roads.

Representative Adamson, of Georgia, a member of the congressional investigating committee, said he was familiar with the condition of short roads in Georgia and believed their returns are inadequate.

Bird M. Robinson, of Oneida, Tenn., president of the association, presided tonight. Among the guests at the dinner were Representatives Austin, of Tennessee, and Wingo, of Arkansas.

DUBLIN CHURCHMEN DETERMINED TO RID COUNTY OF RESORTS

Dublin, Ga., December 13.—(Special.) A determined effort is now being made by the law-abiding people of this city to abolish all questionable resorts near Dublin, whether they are in the city or in the county. For the past several years, since a strict ban was put on these places inside the city, they have flourished on the east side of the river intermittently, but it is determined to stop that now.

The shooting of young Beacham Saturday night in a house just across the river from Dublin has stirred the Christian brotherhood, an organization working to promote community morals, into action.

Monday night several ministers of the city, a number of leading laymen of the churches, gathered and secured court papers with which to make a raid on the district, where a big oyster supper and dance was in progress. A heavy rain which fell several hours broke into this plan, and Tuesday morning deputies made arrests of six women, while several others escaped to Macon.

A mass meeting of men has been called for Sunday afternoon next by the Christian brotherhood, and it promises to start more action looking to the permanent abolition of questionable resorts near the city around Dublin, but all over the county.

Work of Flonzaley Quartet Applauded by Big Audience

For the second time within a year the Flonzaley quartet played last night before an Atlanta audience which filled Cable hall, but this time with two hundred extra seats, which yet did not supply the demand. And more significant still, the program of absolute music was not sufficient, and three encores had to be granted.

All of which looks very optimistic in the case of concert music. The occasion was the second event in the Music Study club's course, and to those who know the peculiar character of the quartet, it is needless to say that the evening was one of unalloyed beauty. The appearance of the four artists is marked by no affectation of dress or mannerism. Dignity, earnestness, seriousness characterize their bearing. But inevitably, when they opened with their Haydn G major quartet (op. 17, No. 1) the imagination surrounded them with an eighteenth or an early nineteenth century drawingroom, with groups around them, and maybe graceful trains were caught up by grand dames and cavaliers extended their hands to tread a measure when the music moved began with stately charm, and then whirled into a very carnival of gaiety, as if the revelers from a costume masquerade had broken in upon the gentle scene.

An adagio, solemn in its beauty, had preceded the minuet, and the opening allegro was even more typically Haydn with its old-world atmosphere, fresh in inspiration and uncomplicated by problems to come. Its well accented rhythm not without vanity, but beating its way inevitably to a well foreseen end. The finale was a wonderful piece of ensemble work, the four instruments answering each other with a precision as if they were played by one man, and as an encore, there was an exquisite serenade, again by Haydn, for muted violin with pizzicato accompaniment.

To many hearers, the Smetana Largo from the quartet "Aus meinem Leben," was the most interesting event of the evening. It was spoke in the spirit of today, and voiced the conflict, the questioning, the reaching out of a self-consciousness which has not yet found itself, but in its very desire, its groping for higher things, makes music.

A Mozart quartet in G major was the third program number, one of typical beauty of content expressed in terms of elegance, the language par excellence also of the Flonzaleys.

And yet with such exceeding modesty do these four artists support themselves—Mr. Adolfo Betti, first violin; Mr. Alfred Pochon, second violin; Mr. Tigo Ara, viola; Mr. Twan d'Archaubeau, violoncello—that virtuosity is the last term one would think of applying to them, taking the word in its common and much abused sense of exploiting their musicianship.

It has come to be generally known that they do nothing but ensemble work, allowing no individual opportunity for glory, and so they have made themselves a perfect whole, as an individual artist perfect himself.

The purity of their tone in its every variety had striking proof in the Smetana Largo, when, after a moving solo introduction by the cello, almost tragic in its foreboding, the four instruments entered upon a passage as imaginative as a Debussy study, and one that would be disastrous to any but a quartet commanding purity and firmness of tone.

It was made one of the most inspiring events of an evening of inspiration, in which the ensemble medium for the effects afforded would of themselves have been diverting, but were made more an eloquent medium for the expression of the spirit and the message of the compositions they translated.

TEUTONS ATTACK, BUT ARE STOPPED BY RUSSIAN FIRE

Petrograd, December 13.—Today's Russian war office statement reads: "Western (Russian Front): In the region of the Forest of Gunaalotze the enemy continues to bombard our position with artillery and bomb mortars."

"His attempt at an offensive in the region of Prisoze, northeast of Pomerany, was arrested by our fire. Enemy attempts to cross the River Bys-tritsa in the region of Iapollia were repulsed."

"Caucasian Front: The situation is unchanged."

Berlin, December 13.—(Via Sayville.) The German statement regarding the Russian front issued today reads: "Eastern Front: Front of Prince Leopold. There is nothing important to report."

Opportunity In Wider Service

There are plenty of opportunities for up-building this community. The principal one lies in the way of developing our business enterprises along the most stable lines. This can be done by serving a wider field and making every dollar of capital work to the limit in productive channels.

We have the service and invite the public to use it freely. The size of your business and the amount of your balance with us has nothing to do with the service we offer you. The small business deserves just as careful attention as the large. Talk with us about your plans and problems.

Good banking service is a big factor in bringing about such a condition.

"Rogers Sells It for Less" Men, Stand Up ---and Listen!

Fifty per cent of your earnings—unless you happen to be a capitalist—go to the maintenance of the Kitchen. You have the ability to make money, hence you are a man of intelligence. Yet, to the largest item of your expenditures you do not give a moment's thought. Absurd, isn't it? You would jump at any proposition—put your money into it—that would pay a profit of 20 per cent. Suppose you could save that much, and even more, on your grocery bill—wouldn't it be like finding it? You have probably complained to your wife about the increased demands in the Kitchen appropriation. But have you looked into the subject and offered her any assistance whatever? Blame yourself then. There's a remedy, and it is close at hand. One of the 74 Rogers Economy Stores is within your reach. You can get the benefit of our immense buying facilities. As our volume of business is enormous, we can afford a small margin. Don't you see the logic of it all? What a substantial saving you can make by getting all your supplies here. Start today. Put your Kitchen on a cash basis. Help your wife by showing her how to buy conservatively and economically. The amount you will thus save in a year's time will startle you. Just let the above soak into your intelligence—that's all that's necessary. We know you are wise enough to take advantage of the opportunity to shake loose from the high cost of living.

RUMANIAN FORCES IN FULL RETREAT

Tislatu and south of this point, is retreating toward the east. "South of the town of Mizil-Buzeu the Rumanians, on taking the offensive, occupied a row of villages, but on being attacked in turn they were obliged to fall back."

"At present the Rumanian army occupies the front of Buzeu-Sariga, Urzicheni."

TEUTONS NEAR TOWN OF BUZEU.

Berlin, December 13.—(By Sayville.)—The Teutonic forces in Rumania are approaching the town of Buzeu, in fighting their way northeastward, the war office announced in tonight's statement.

The statement says: "The ninth army (Rumanian front) has reached Buzeu."

The statement issued during the day regarding Rumanian operations, reads: "Front of Archduke (Rumanian). In the wooded Carpathians various patrol engagements undertaken by us were successful."

"On the Transylvanian eastern front yesterday German and Austro-Hungarian troops again repulsed Russian attacks in the Gyergyo mountains, and on both sides of the Tatra valley. Reconnoitering actions followed the retreating enemy. They brought back prisoners."

Army Group of Field Marshal von Mackensen: The enemy, which had been reinforced by Russian cavalry and again had made a stand along the Jalomitz river, the waters of which had risen high, is now retreating in full retreat toward the northeast. The Danube and Ninth armies are pressing after him on the whole front from the road to Buzeu we gained considerable ground, taking 3,000 prisoners, while in the mountains yesterday more than 4,000 additional prisoners were taken."

BULGARS ATTACK ON MONASTIR LINE, BUT ARE CHECKED

Paris, December 13.—A counter attack delivered by Bulgarian troops against the Italians on the Macedonian front, north of Monastir, resulted in spirited fighting yesterday. The war office announced today that the attack failed.

The statement reads: "In the region north of Monastir violent artillery fighting and rather spirited infantry encounters occurred yesterday. A Bulgarian counter attack against the Italians was checked by the artillery and machine gun fire of our allies."

"An enemy airplane was forced to earth and captured by an Italian detachment. Two officers in the machine were made prisoners."

ATTACKS RENEWED, GERMAN REPORT.

Berlin, December 13.—(Via Sayville.) Renewed attacks by Serbian forces on the Macedonian front are reported in the German statement issued tonight.

The statement says: "East of the Cerna (Macedonian front) new Serbian attacks have been begun."

SURPRISE ATTACK BY FRENCH TROOPS ON GERMAN SALIENT

Paris, December 13.—The bulletin issued by the war office tonight reads: "South of the Somme the enemy artillery, energetically counter shelled by us, violently bombarded our trenches in the sector of Blaches-la-Maisonette-Barleux."

"In the Argonne a surprise attack directed against an enemy salient north of Four de Paris enabled us to destroy hostile mine works and bring back prisoners."

"Everywhere else the day was comparatively calm. A German captive balloon was destroyed by our artillery near Douvaucourt."

Belgian Communication: "In the region of Liximide and in the direction of Steenstraete there were reciprocal bombardments, which during the course of the afternoon became particularly intense, followed by destructive fires by the Belgian batteries against the offensive organizations at Landmark 18 on the Yser."

London, December 13.—The war office communication issued tonight says: "Hostile patrols endeavored to enter our trenches last night east of Arras, but were driven off."

"There was the usual artillery activity throughout the day at different points along our front. We carried out bombardments of the enemy's trenches in the neighborhood of Festubert, Neuve Chapelle and Ypres."

ARTILLERY BUSY, GERMAN REPORT.

Berlin, December 13.—(Via Sayville.) Today's statement by army headquarters, regarding operations on the Franco-Belgian front, is as follows:

"Western Front: Aside from artillery fire on the Somme and Meuse sectors, which was temporarily livelier, and the nightly clashes of patrols, there have been no important activities by any of the armies."

The statement issued tonight says: "Artillery fire on the Somme and on

MRS. STOKES DISCUSSES SOCIALISM AND CHARITY

Noted Author and Lecturer Tells Why She Joined the Socialists.

Speaking on "Socialism and Charity" last night at the home of Mrs. M. R. Miller, 221 East Tenth street, Mrs. Rose Stokes, able writer of plays, lecturer and socialist, impressed upon her hearers the ideals of socialism, as well as some of the serious evils of the present social order, which cause such decided distinctions in the classes, at the advantage of a few and the grave disadvantage of a multitude.

"In 1906 I was a member of a charity organization in New York," said Mrs. Stokes, "and I was engrossed in my work, going about attending to my chores much as others did." Then Mrs. Stokes told of a visit she paid to a victim of tuberculosis, an Italian, in an effort to get him to go to a hospital, and had found him antagonistic toward the conditions in America which had brought him to such a state when he was a hard and regular worker with good habits. She said that she expressed contempt for the charities, and that she was so impressed that she went away, determined to give up her charity and to get to work to find the source of all of this evil which had arisen in the social order so as to bring this Italian to such a pitiable condition.

"Ten years ago I joined the socialist movement that I might find something that would change the order completely, and get at the cause of the evils.

LOVE FEAST IS HELD BY NOBLES OF YAARAB

Real Get-Together Shrine Spirit Dominates Election. Fifty Novices Cross Sands.

"Just like a good, old-fashioned Georgia camp meeting," and "a regular love-feast," were two of the expressions that were uttered by the nobles of Yaarab temple as they filed out of the Auditorium last night following the annual business meeting and election of officers for the ensuing year.

Past Illustrious Potentate Forrest

A small steam generator for medical purposes that has been invented by a German can be used to treat an entire human body or any single limb or organ.

Athens, Ga., December 13.—(Special.) Judge Charles Hillier Brand, of the Western circuit, tonight made the fourth formally announced candidate for the full term to succeed the late Congressman Samuel J. Tribble, of the Eighth district in congress. Judge Brand was solicitor general of the circuit for many years before going to the bench. It is not likely he will resign the judgeship to make the race. The election will be January 11.

WALTER P. ANDREWS, Re-elected Illustrious Potentate of Yaarab Temple.

Adair pointed out the great things that could be achieved by concerted action, in an eloquent speech nominating himself to succeed himself, and was unanimously chosen to cast the vote of the nobles of Yaarab temple.

Then followed quickly the nomination and election by acclamation of George M. Napier as chief rabbi; Ed C. Brown, assistant rabbi; Rev. Charles L. Bass, high priest and prophet; John C. Joiner, Oriental guide; James A. Floyd, treasurer, and George B. Angard, recorder.

For representatives to the Imperial Council Potentate Walter P. Andrews, Past Potentate Forrest Adair, James T. Scott and Len C. Baldwin were named. Potentate Andrews placed the name of Past Potentate Adair in nomination in an eloquent speech. (This makes the nineteenth consecutive year that Past Potentate Adair has been chosen to this office.)

A report of an auditing committee showed that the temple had made a net increase in membership during the fiscal year of 1916 and the Yaarab temple now has a membership of 2,393.

Earlier in the afternoon, beginning at 2:30, fifty aspiring unregenerate sons of the desert were advanced to the proud position of junior camel tail twisters.

Following the ceremonial supper was served in the banquet hall to all the nobles present.

The animated cartoon, depicting the tribulations of a caravan of unregenerate crossing the hot sands to Mecca, made a hit with the nobles. Director Goodhart announced that this picture, together with several others of merit, will be shown at the Lyric theater on Sunday at 3:30 p. m., for the benefit of the families of Shriners. The admission will be free, but the one dollar of each party should have a 1916 Shrine card.

Sunday afternoon Yaarab's band and chanters will give a free concert in the Auditorium. Admission will be taken up for poor children of Atlanta.

115 Macon Merchants Charged With Breaking Sunday Close-Up Laws

Macon, Ga., December 13.—(Special.) The civil service commission which is vested with law enforcement power in Macon through control of the police, tonight decided to turn over to the grand jury now in session the names of 115 Macon merchants charged with violating the state law relative to operating places of business on Sunday.

The commission also decided to ask the city council to pass a new city ordinance, claiming the present one is invalid, because it conflicts with the state law.

WOMAN IS CHARGED WITH "SHOPLIFTING"

A young woman giving her name as Mrs. Clair Potter, aged 25, of Americus, Ga., was held at police barracks last night on the charge of shoplifting. The police, however, do not believe that she gave her right name.

Mrs. Potter was arrested by Officer V. D. Young in a Whitehall street retail store. She was charged with having lifted from one of the counters a small silk handkerchief. She denies the charge, however, and states that she was merely examining the handkerchief in order to pick out some Christmas presents.

HOLIDAYS FOR G. N. C. WILL START DEC. 21

Milledgeville, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)—President Parks, of the Georgia Normal and Industrial college, in reference to the Christmas holidays, announces that the girls will leave Milledgeville on the morning of Thursday, December 21, on a special train for Macon, with special cars for various points over the state. However, they will get up early that morning and, with several hours start, will complete a day's work in the school before the train leaves. They will return to Milledgeville the first of the year.

NEW SERVICE ANNOUNCED BY SOUTHERN RAILWAY

Through Pullman sleeping car service between Jacksonville, Atlanta and Oklahoma City, Okla., will be inaugurated by the Southern Railway in connection with the new Pullman sleeping car first car reaching Atlanta December 18 and first car leaving Atlanta December 20. Assistant General Passenger Agent J. C. Beam announced yesterday.

The new sleeper will be handled by the "South" leaves Atlanta, west-bound, at 10 o'clock in the morning, and arrives in Oklahoma City in the evening at 9:55 o'clock. It will be scheduled to arrive Oklahoma City on the following afternoon out of Atlanta at 4:45 o'clock, and to leave there in the morning at 10:35 o'clock.

AGED NEGRO OF TIFT HANGS SELF ON TREE

Tifton, Ga., December 13.—(Special.) Swayed by some emotion foreign to the race, Calvin C. Clements, an aged negro living in the Phillipsburg section, hanged himself Friday. His body was found late Monday night, depending from a tree in a swamp near his former home. The negro had been in poor health. On Friday he disappeared, and searching parties searched the woods for him. A coroner's jury rendered a verdict of suicide, despondency prompting the act. Clements was well liked by white citizens. This is the first negro suicide in the knowledge of Tiftonites.

FOUR FORMALLY ENTER RACE FOR CONGRESS

Judge Park, Dr. Stovall, Judge Brand and Q. L. Williford Announce in Eighth.

Athens, Ga., December 13.—(Special.) Judge Charles Hillier Brand, of the Western circuit, tonight made the fourth formally announced candidate for the full term to succeed the late Congressman Samuel J. Tribble, of the Eighth district in congress. Judge Brand was solicitor general of the circuit for many years before going to the bench. It is not likely he will resign the judgeship to make the race. The election will be January 11.

Judge H. N. Holden, urged by many to run, has definitely decided not to be in the race, for either the short or long term. Judge Holden, with whom Judge Brand conferred before announcing for congress, stated tonight that he would support Judge Brand for congress.

Judge J. J. Strickland has announced that in case Judge Brand is elected to congress he will be an applicant for the unexpired term for judge of the Western circuit.

The three previous formal announcements were those of Dr. A. S. J. Covington, former legislator and state senator; Judge James B. Park, of Greensboro, judge of the Ocmulgee circuit, and Quincy L. Williford, prominent lawyer of Madison, Morgan county. Thomas J. Brown, of Elberton, former solicitor general of the northern circuit, who ran against the late Congressman Tribble in the last primary election, will undoubtedly announce. It is understood positively that Julian B. McCurry, of Hartwell, will announce formally, and other candidates are probable.

For the short term Editor H. J. Kovacs, of the Athens Banner, is prominently spoken of. He has not formally announced.

L. W. Jarman Urged. Covington, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)—Much interest is being shown in Covington and Newton county in the probable entry of L. W. Jarman, of Porterdale, Ga., in the congressional race of the eighth district to succeed Hon. S. J. Tribble. While Mr. Jarman has not yet definitely announced as a candidate, he has the matter under consideration. Many friends throughout the district are urging him to make the race.

Mr. Jarman is one of the foremost farmers and stock growers in the county, having been on the editorial staff of the Southern Cultivator, as well as being a contributor to other newspapers and periodicals.

Two Infantry Units Will Be Established At Points in Georgia

The Georgia Military academy at College Park and the University of Georgia, at Athens, have been singled out by the war department as points at which will be established infantry units of the reserve officers' training corps, according to announcement from Washington last night.

With the official news of this designation Colonel J. C. Woodward, head of the Georgia Military academy, received the announcement that the war department had assigned Sergeant Christensen, of the Eighteenth infantry, U. S. A., now on duty on the Mexican border, to duty at this school as assistant to Lieutenant O. O. Ellis, a West Point graduate, who for some time has been commandant of cadets there. Sergeant Christensen has been ordered to leave the border for his new post of duty forthwith.

Frank Jones Hurt In Fall Last Night Into New Underpass

Frank P. Jones, aged 23, of 292 East Fourth street, sustained a broken leg by a fall last night into the new underpass being dug underneath the car tracks on Ponce de Leon avenue at the ball park.

Night Watchman T. G. Hutchens heard his cries, and tried to rescue him alone. He was compelled to call a hook-and-ladder from fire station No. 11, a Grady hospital ambulance and Call Officers Barfield and Turner from police station before Jones was finally rescued from the pit, which is some thirty feet deep. He was rushed to a hospital, where his leg was set.

Mr. Jones is an employee of the Porter Peritt company in the Fourth National Bank building.

Big Factory, Big Car, Big Value

The demand for Overlands is much greater than any other cars of like class enjoy.

Overland resources and facilities are likewise greater. Overland economies of production are unequalled.

And Overland Policy is and always has been to produce on a bigger scale, to save on a bigger scale and to give the saving to buyers of Overland cars.

So Overland can and does give you a bigger, better, more beautiful car than anyone else can give for the same money—or considerably more.

Note these examples of Big Value.

The $795 Overland Four—112 inch wheelbase—the wonderful 35 horsepower Overland motor made famous by the praise of over a quarter million Overland owners—long 48 inch cantilever rear springs—the biggest, most powerful, most comfortable, easiest riding, best finished, most beautiful car in its class.

The $925 Overland Light Six—same model as the $795 Four—but with a 35-40 horsepower six cylinder motor and 116 inch wheelbase.

The $635 Light Overland Four—easily the easiest riding, roomiest small car to be had at any price.

Come in and see these cars and let us demonstrate them

IF EUROPE MAKES PEACE.

In the first blush of Germany's peace proposals there was enthusiastic hope, and in some quarters even belief, that peace in Europe would possibly follow. At the very suggestion of peace the markets did exactly what it has been predicted they would do if peace were really established: Cotton went up, while stocks went down.

But twenty-four hours makes a marked difference. Germany's peace talk sounded well. It was what the world wanted. But Germany's proposal had scarcely been published before the Allies began to pour cold water on it; and while they will consider and perhaps answer it, it is already clear in the public mind that there is scarcely even a remote chance for peace at this time.

The suggestion of it, however, was enough to excite and enthuse the south.
When peace comes in Europe it will be our turn. Seventy-five per cent of the products of commerce which will come into greater demand with the close of the war are made in the south. Chief among these are cotton, naval stores and lumber. There are also certain food products which will likewise be favorably affected.

If peace does not come now, the German suggestion of it has already given evidence of what is in store for us. Cotton was quick to respond to the announcement, recovering materially upon no other foundation than a bare hope.

The south is just experiencing the most profitable and prosperous fall and winter season it has ever known. With the highest prices for its staple product which have pre-valled since the civil war, with every product of the farm in good demand at almost unprecedented figures, the farmers of this section were never in better condition than they are today.

In spite of that, present prosperity is scarcely a circumstance to what will be ours
when the European nations have laid down their arms and take up again the pursuit of peace. Instead of pouring their money into the north and east for powder and shot and shell, they will send it here for cotton, naval stores, lumber and foodstuffs. They will look to us to take care of them when they stop their fighting.

It is scarcely within the powers of the imagination to picture the prosperity that must then come to this section. Its only counterpart is in that which the north and east have enjoyed through their tremendous traffic in the implements of war.

We know it is coming; the evidence is indisputable. It may not come today or tomorrow, but soon it must come, and it is well that we should be ready for it. There's a big contract just ahead of us, and in proportion as we are prepared to fulfill it the golden days will be ours.

THE PRICE OF COAL.

In commenting upon the federal inquiry into the high cost of living, The Constitution
mentioned certain conclusions which the investigators had reached, one among which was that the extraordinary increase in the price of coal to the consumer had been the result, in part at least, of manipulation.

In an extended statement of the situation
from the coal dealer's standpoint, published today, Thomas H. Austin says deficiency in production and car shortage are the real factors in the high price situation; and that owing to the abundance of coal mines and the possibilities of production, combination or manipulation would be impossible.

Whatever the causes, and there are no doubt several of them, it is a fact that the price of coal has advanced within the last few months from 30 to 50 per cent, putting an extraordinary burden of hardship particularly upon the small consumer, who is compelled to buy from month to month.

It was not The Constitution's purpose to criticize the retail coal trade. We have no question that the retailer is handling his business to the consumer on a legitimate margin of profit.

But we did state that so far as the possibilities of production are concerned,
there is no reason why the coal situation

should be any different today from what it was a year ago. There are just as many mines, and with the exception of a year's supply which has been taken out, there is just as much coal in them. The production of coal does not depend on the seasons. It is there to be taken out whether the weather is cold or warm, rainy or dry.

According to Mr. Austin's statement, the available supply of coal can be made whatever the mine owners want to make it. The chief difficulty of the situation, therefore,
becomes one of distribution rather than of supply and demand.

The position The Constitution takes in the matter is that whether it is car shortage that is responsible, as Mr. Austin states in the conclusion of his letter, or manipulation
or other cause or causes, the steps necessary to relieve it should be taken as speedily as possible in the interest of the small consumer, with whom, at present prices and in midwinter, there must necessarily be suffering and hardship in many instances.

It is a subject with which, in either phase of it, the government should deal and apply the remedy. If an increased supply of coal cars will solve the problem, let's compel the use of cars first to relieve necessity and distress at home, and after that the railroads
may use what they have to transport war munitions and supplies for the turbulent European nations.

PENALTIES OF MIGRATION.

Notwithstanding there is some excuse,
perhaps, for negro migration, growing out of the fears which have been engendered by the actions of mobs, and the false stories of threats which emigration agents have fed them, the southern negro who is lured by their persuasion usually fares worse in the end, if he does not lose his life into the bargain.

It is a pitiful story that comes from Newark, N. J., where the church had to take hold of the situation growing out of the increased negro population, due to emigration from the south. In a recent church meeting on the subject, reported in The Newark Evening News, Rev. O. M. Bonfield, pastor of a negro congregation, is quoted as saying that—

Many of the newcomers are driven north by persecution in southern states
as well as by the lure of high wages in the munitions factories. He charged that many are victimized by cabmen and then abandoned, and that saloons, heretofore closed to colored patronage, are now open to them.

These people in many instances need proper clothing to enable them to withstand the rigors of this climate; they have no decent housing facilities and we must have the aid of the white people in relieving their distress.

The northern idea of persecution in the south is, of course, a very exaggerated one;
but we have to admit that in the work of the mob, at least, it has some foundation. It is a matter of common knowledge, however,
that the honest and industrious negro gets along better and gets more out of life here in the south than he can anywhere else in the country.

Looking at the other side of it, the condition of the negro who emigrates to the north as the result of fair promises and big wages that do not always materialize, it is apparent from what the negro churchmen themselves say that there is no comparison in the surroundings there and here. The emigrants, and it is stated there are some 12,000 of them in and around Newark alone,
working chiefly in the munitions factories,
are in actual need of housing and clothing
which, with all the promise of big wages,
they have not been able to procure.

Nor is that the whole story. Many of them are dying, according to testimony given in this same meeting, because of the unhealthy surroundings in which they are compelled to live. We quote again from
The Newark Evening News:

Declaring that a large number of the colored workers in plants on the meadows are dying as a result of disease contracted in the unhealthy surroundings in which they live, Rev. Albert N. Stubbs, pastor of Bethany church, said he had complained to members of the board of health and had been told they were endeavoring to remedy conditions.

If distress and death are the lot of these negro emigrants today, when the munitions plants are running overtime and using all the labor they can get, what can they hope
for when the European war suddenly ends,
and even those plants which do not shut down entirely lay off the majority of their help? These imported negroes will be the first to be discharged.

Without money, without employment,
without the means of returning south where they can always make a living in one way or another, their prospective condition is pitiful to contemplate.

If they are paying today the penalties of migration in discomfort, distress and even with their lives, there is the penalty of hunger, perhaps starvation, yet ahead of them,
unless they are wise enough to take precaution against it.

The wise ones among them will save enough money to get back home and buy a ticket just as soon as they are able to pay for it.

Turned at some tender passage: How it seems To speak to me—to thrill
my soul with dreams
Sweet as first love—as beautiful and brief!
Here was her glory,—on this page her grief,—
Her tears have touched it: Here the sunlight streams,
An there the stars, withheld from her beams
And Sorrow sought her white soul—like a Thief!
And here—her name: and as I trace the sweet,
Soft syllables, a Presence in the room
Sheds a rare radiance . . . but I may not look:
The yellowed leaves are fluttering at my feet:
The light is gone, and I—lost in the gloom,
Weep like a woman o'er a little book.

WALKER'S HARD WORK.
(From The Atlantic News.)
Many complimentary letters are being sent about Hon. John D. Walker, of Sparta, chairman of the finance committee of Georgia for the national democratic campaign fund. Under Mr. Walker's leadership more than $26,000 was raised for the campaign
expenses of the democratic party.

His efforts were not in vain, as the final returns show. Mr. Walker deserves the thanks of the entire state for his hard work
in behalf of the national democratic party.

WEEVIL IS WITH US.
(From The Pembroke Enterprise.)
No use to build big expectations on a cotton crop next year, Mr. Farmer, because the boll weevil is with us and he is going to show you now just what he can do. We've been warning you about his coming, but you paid little attention. He's here now and supplies are up. We may not have him in Bryan county to any great extent next year, but he will be with us the year following. Now get ready to make some other money crop besides cotton. You might as well begin right away, too, so you will be accustomed to selling some other product.

There is just one thing outside of labor strikes for the past two decades that has ever caused any abnormal prices for coal,
viz., car shortage.

There are today thousands of mines in the United States ready, willing and anxious to supply the demand for coal at normal prices. If there were enough coal being produced to supply the demand there would be no buyers but sellers, and naturally the price has advanced.

While it is undoubtedly true that in some cases coal operators have advanced their prices because of the coal shortage, the advance in the coal market has been due to the open market that should have been shipped at low prices, it is a fact that, taken as a whole, the coal mines have acted as honorably toward their customers as any other
set of men ever have done in the history of the coal business. The coal mines have refused to sell their product at high prices because they have refused to take care of their customers fairly, dividing their shipments
among their existing contracts at low prices
and reserving only a fractional car supply,
they could ship on such contracts only a part
of the same.

Not more than one-fourth of the coal that is produced is being sold by the mines at present high prices and in the coal shortage cases it is by the mines who do not have enough of their product contracted for,
and for all of their product contracted for,
they could ship on such contracts only a part
of the same.

Now, the real and only reason why the coal shortage is as it is, is that the coal operators have refused to take care of their customers fairly, dividing their shipments
among their existing contracts at low prices
and reserving only a fractional car supply,
they could ship on such contracts only a part

Rome Has Splendid Chance to Land $11,000,000 Government Armor Plant

"Every possible pressure that can be brought to bear to land the plant is being used."
"Rome offers an ideal location for such a plant. We are in the heart of the coal and iron district of the south. The Tennessee and Alabama cities that are after the plant
all base their claims on the proximity of these commodities. Rome happens to be located in the center of the territory of these cities."

The government expert who first visited Rome and went over the local situation
stated that enough water power to operate several such plants could be developed from the two rivers that run through our city.
This is expected to play a large part in the selection of a location.

"The location of the $11,000,000 armor plant in Rome would mean much to the annual election of this afternoon at police station officers B. F. Cook and George Cornett are candidates for the presidency to succeed J. A. Hollis, L. D. Askew, vice president, and J. E. Chandler, secretary, have no opposition. Secretary Chandler stated
that over $11,000 was paid out in the past
year by the association for death and sick
claims, funeral, etc. This was one of the most successful years in the history of the association."

Police officials took steps Wednesday to
"tighten up" on the "anti-jaywalking" ordinance, insisting upon pedestrians crossing
the streets in the manner prescribed by law.
The new move comes as the result of several recent accidents.

The Atlanta Methodist Sunday School Superintendent's union, of which Asa G. Chandler is president, will on Friday afternoon at the chamber of commerce to discuss plans for raising $2,400 for Christmas for Wesley Memorial hospital. Secretary Chandler stated that over $11,000 was paid out in the past
year by the association for death and sick
claims, funeral, etc. This was one of the

ing class will give a sacred concert at the

MANY SALES MADE
OF RED CROSS SEALS
THROUGH U. S. MAIL

"I am inclosing check for Red Cross seals
sent me and it is a pleasure for me to help
you in your efforts to such a worthy cause." This is the text of hundreds of letters which are pouring into the office of the Ad
Men and the Anti-Tuberculosis association
in response to the packets of Christmas seals which were recently sent out to persons interested in charitable work throughout the city. And many letters add, as Frank H.
Camp added to the above paragraph: "I am sure that the Ad Men will be blessed for their untiring efforts in such a noble work."

A characteristic letter from an Atlanta business man is that of Meyer Regenstein, who writes: "I hasten to take advantage of
the opportunity afforded me to contribute my little mite in the Red Cross seals. I take your comrades are doing for humanity's sake.
Find check for two dollars herewith and send the additional stamps to my home address. Also, our company will take five dollars' worth of Red Cross seals, which we will gladly contribute."

From Mrs. John W. Rowlett, president of the Georgia branch of the National Congress of Mothers and Parents, comes this word: "I take pleasure in donating five dollars to the Red Cross seals. I will find my dollar as requested. May I suggest that you one from the terrible effects of this dread disease. I am sure that just such big hearts
as yours to carry on this great work."

W. E. Bradford, recently located here from New Orleans, writes: "Inclosed please find one dollar. While I am making my home in the city of New Orleans, I take pleasure in wishing you success in the good work which you are doing in your city which was my former home."

In another instance, the people addressed had left for the West Indies, but the new residents of the address remitted for the seals, although other contributions to the fund had already been made through other channels.

There are many packets which have not as yet been accounted for, and since Christmas is a very short time away, and the Ad Men must make their report to the Anti-Tuberculosis society at that time, a special effort is being made that all who have failed to send in their dollar do so without delay. It is hoped that every man who has received a packet will make remittance without another day's delay.

Y. M. C. A. OPENED FREE TO ATLANTA POLICEMEN
AND TO THE FIREMEN

In recognition of the fact that the members of the police force and the fire department should be as nearly perfect physically as possible, the Y. M. C. A., through Physical Director A. K. Franklin, has extended an invitation to every member of the police and fire departments to enjoy full privileges of the association without cost.

They will be given the full privilege of the gymnasium apparatus, the swimming pools, the gymnasium classes and all other departments of the association. The policemen and the firemen can come at any hour which suits their convenience. Gymnasium classes will be arranged to meet the convenience of the watches of the departments.

Chief Cody will appoint a man from each company of the fire department and Chief Mayo will appoint two men from each of the three watches of the police department, and this group will act as a committee to arrange all details. The committee will meet on Friday, when the matter of having a social on the following Wednesday evening will be discussed.

Chief Cody will open his class on
"First Aid to the Injured," to these men.
Chief Mayo and Chief Cody both expressed great satisfaction at the invitation of the Y. M. C. A.

STATE HOTEL MEN
OPEN CONVENTION
AT WINECOFF TODAY

The two-day session of the 1916 convention of the Georgia Hotel Men's association will convene at the Winecoff hotel today at 10 o'clock. It is the tenth annual convention and will be presided over by J. G. Jeffcoat, president, who is manager of the New Aldine
hotel, Fitzgerald.

Moll H. Wilkinson, president of the Presidents' club, will make the welcoming address to the members of the association,
after the invocation by the Rev. W. W. Memminger, of All Saints' church. Tom W. Hooks, proprietor of the Hotel Lanier, Macon, will respond to the address of welcome.

The opening session of the convention
will be marked by the following special addresses: "The Value of Good Roads to the Hotel Man," by J. A. Newcomb, Bristol hotel, Bristol, Tenn.; "How Greater Interests May be Maintained in the Association of Managers," by J. E.
Hawes, Hotel Winecoff, Atlanta; "Hotel Legislation," by Lee M. Jordan, county of the association, and "The Relation of the Small Hotel to the Association," by W. C. Royer, Piedmont hotel, Atlanta.

At noon the convention will adjourn to be the guests of T. J. and W. K. Anderson, of the Marion hotel and Fulton market, at an oyster roast. The "roast" will be held at "Barnesia," Thursday at the banquet, which will be held at the Hotel Anselby by the association, addresses will be made by Mayor-elect Chandler, Colonel F. P. Jones, president of the Atlanta Convention bureau, and Ivan
E. Allen, president-elect of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. After the banquet the delegates will attend a theater party at the Forsyth.

OFFICIAL REPORT
ON RECENT FAIR
SHOWS BIG PROFIT

The last meeting of the executive council of the Southeastern Fair association before the annual meeting was held yesterday afternoon when a financial statement of the profits from the first fair was made.

The auditors' report showed a net profit in excess of $25,000 on the October fair. So well pleased were members of the council over the success of the fair that a vote of thanks was extended the management. It was the unanimous opinion of members that the fair had been not only a financial success, but had been of educational benefit to the southeast.

Plans for next year were informally discussed. A larger fair is proposed, but it agreed much will depend upon the co-operation received from the city. If the city grants
a sufficient appropriation to erect another building, the 1917 fair will be on a much more elaborate scale, but with the present
equipment it would be impossible to house
a greater exposition than that recently held.

LITTLE LOCALS ABOUT THINGS OF CITY INTEREST

It is understood that owing to the cold
and disagreeable weather that has prevailed
during this week, a number of students who have signed their intention of entering for the winter term of the free night school at Georgia Tech have been prevented from doing so. These, however, will have opportunity to register today, and since it is the last day on which the registration books will be open, it is anticipated a good many will take advantage of it.

In Judge John T. Pendleton's courtroom yesterday five young Georgians, all men, took the legal examination required for the practice of law in the courts of Georgia. Those standing the examination were: H. O. Davis, Watt Kelly, Jr., E. T. Hendrick, L. O. Simmons and O. H. Adams.

The Police Relief association will hold its annual election this afternoon at police station officers B. F. Cook and George Cornett are candidates for the presidency to
succeed J. A. Hollis, L. D. Askew, vice president, and J. E. Chandler, secretary, have
no opposition. Secretary Chandler stated
that over $11,000 was paid out in the past
year by the association for death and sick
claims, funeral, etc. This was one of the most successful years in the history of the
association."

Police officials took steps Wednesday to
"tighten up" on the "anti-jaywalking" ordinance, insisting upon pedestrians crossing
the streets in the manner prescribed by law.
The new move comes as the result of several
recent accidents.

Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes, of New York, will on next Friday afternoon address the suffragists of Atlanta at a suffrage rally to be held at the Piedmont hotel. As a speaker and a writer on the subject of woman's day, Mrs. Stokes has won a national reputation.

An unusually interesting program, over which Mrs. Thomas Peters, historian of the chapter, will preside, will follow the short business session of the Atlanta Chapter, U. D. C., Mrs. T. Stevens in the chair, at 5 o'clock today, at the Woman's club.

Dr. Meswin Woods, commander of the John E. Gordon camp of Sons of Veterans, will address the chapter on the plans of the recently reorganized camp.

The program will be full of interest, as follows:

"Notes From My Mother's Memory Book," by Mrs. Lottie Belle Wells; "Music of the Sixties" will be rendered by Mrs. William D. Grant; Mrs. Thomas Peters will give the "History of the Mason and Dixon Line"; Mrs. E. G. Warner will read President Jefferson Davis' proclamation; Mrs. W. S. Yeates will sing songs of long ago; Mrs. Thomas Peters will give the history of the Confederate cabinet and Mrs. W. E. Beckham will read the story of the song "Dixie."

At the close "Dixie" will be sung by the audience.

The chairmen of the various committees are especially asked to be present.

Tea-Dances Postponed At Piedmont Driving Club

On account of the ballroom not being completed at the Piedmont Driving club the tea-dances planned for Wednesday, the 20th and Friday, the 22d, will be omitted.

Miss McCarty's Luncheon.

Miss Margaret McCarty was hostess at a pretty luncheon yesterday at her home on Ponce de Leon, in compliment to Miss Lillian Parks, of Knoxville, the guest of Miss Helen McCarty, and to Miss Jeannette Cowan, of Washington, the guest of Miss Dorothy Arkwright.

The table had as a centerpiece an artistic basket suspended from the chandelier above the table, and filled with mistletoe, poinsettia blooms and pink and white heather. Venetian glass baskets of rich colored fruit were placed at the ends of the table, and marking the places were little pots of holly and mistletoe with a card attached bearing the name of the guest.

Miss McCarty wore a becoming gown of hyacinth blue chiffon over flesh-colored satin, and her sister, Mrs. Brooks Morgan, who assisted in entertaining, wore midnight blue cloth with corsage of Georgette crepe beaded in cut steel. There were twelve guests.

The first of the holiday entertainments at the club will be the dinner-dance Saturday evening, the 22d.

SOCIETY

For Bride-Elect.

Mrs. Gordon Wells will entertain on the 20th at a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Lullie Ross Baker, a bride-elect of the month.

To Mr. and Mrs. Gatins.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Gatins, Jr., will entertain at the Christmas dinner-dance at the Georgian Terrace on Friday, the 22d, in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Kelley Gatins, of New York, who will be their guests through the holidays. Mrs. Gatins, who was the beautiful Miss Dorothy Vatters, of Philadelphia, is visiting relatives in Philadelphia. She will arrive Monday next to join Mr. Gatins and their little daughter at the Terrace, and will be a charming figure at the holiday gatherings.

Farewell Leap Year Dance.

The ladies of the East Lake Country club will give a Leap Year dinner-dance on Wednesday, December 27, dinner to be served at 8 o'clock, and dancing to follow.

A committee of ladies has been appointed by Mr. Harry Goodhart and his entertainment committee to take charge of the dance. The following ladies have consented to serve and will have luncheon at the club on Friday, December 15, at 1 o'clock to arrange the program: Mrs. George W. Nicholson, Mrs. John E. Smith, Mrs. H. Clay Moore, Mrs. Russell Bridge, Mrs. D. W. Webb and Mrs. W. S. Mason.

Miss McGehee Entertains.

Miss Patty McGehee entertained at buffet supper last night at her home, and the evening was one of the happiest and a beautiful hospitality. Her guest, Miss Sara Shannon, of Nashville; Miss Cowan, of Washington, who is visiting Miss Dorothy Arkwright, who is visiting Miss Helen McCarty, who is visiting Miss Helen McCarty, were honor guests, and invited to meet them were forty of the younger set.

The Christmas colors and the flowers typical of the season filled the house with their picturesque brightness, growing poinsettias, vases and bowls of red roses, holly and branches of holly and mistletoe, with their red streamers, forming a gay decorative effect. A delicious supper was served from the dining room, and there the table which held the sweets was ornate with red roses and narcissus and red shaded candles.

Woman's Alliance.

The Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church will meet on Friday, the 15th, at 8 o'clock at the church, 201 West Peachtree street. Articles left from Christmas sale will be for sale and business of importance will be discussed. Everyone interested is invited to come to all meetings.

For Miss Barnwell.

Miss Josephine Stoney entertained informally at bridge yesterday afternoon at her home on Peachtree street in compliment to Miss Bessie Barnwell, of Sumter, S. C., the guest of Mrs. William Barnwell. The prizes were pictures for top score and honor guest.

For Visitors.

Mrs. Hollins Randolph entertained informally at luncheon yesterday at home in compliment to Miss Caroline Hughtitt, of Auburn, N. Y., who, with Mr. Frederick E. Hughtitt, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McBurney.

Miss McCarty's Luncheon.

Miss Mignon McCarty was hostess at a beautiful luncheon of twelve covers yesterday at her home, the occasion a compliment to Miss Helen McCarty's guest, Miss Lillian Park, of Knoxville, and to Miss Dorothy Arkwright's guest, Miss Jeannette Cowan, of Washington.

The table centerpiece was an artistic arrangement of the hand-made flowers which so deftly reproduce the colors and lines of nature, and which are so much in vogue for decoration. A swinging basket, just high enough for the ferns which showered from it, to touch the table, was filled with the most picturesque flowers of the Christmas season, quaint thistles in their prettiest colors and cat-tails prevailing in the midst of holly and mistletoe. At each end of the table were Venetian glass comports of fruits, and the places were marked by little red pots of growing holly.

Miss McCarty was becomingly gowning in hyacinth blue and white with finish at the neck in flesh-colored chiffon.

Rotary Club Banquet.

The Rotary club will hold their annual banquet, a star affair, on the evening of Wednesday, the 20th, at the Georgian Terrace Hotel.

To Miss McGehee.

Miss Josephine Mobley will entertain at the dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving club on Saturday, the 23d, in compliment to Miss Patty McGehee.

Sheltering Arms.

The Sheltering Arms association will hold a special meeting today at 10:30 a. m., at 161 Walton street.

Dinner-Dance Parties.

Additional dinners at the Christmas dinner-dance at the Georgian Terrace hotel on Friday, the 22d, will be a party of twelve, at which Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Goldsmith, Jr., will entertain Mr. and Mrs. George Walker, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hookaday, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Forrest, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Atkinson, Mrs. M. P. Coolidge, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Gatins, Jr., Major and Mrs. F. L. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ryck, and others will have parties numbering from eight to twenty.

Dinner to Wedding Party.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Barr entertained the members of the House-Houser wedding party at a beautiful dinner last night at the Ansley hotel. The tables were laid in the Pine Room and were daintily decorated in a color scheme of pink and white. Killarney roses made low pedestals in the center, while fern fronds formed a delicate tracery radiating from the center to the border of the table. Half-opened roses held the salted almonds, the place cards were held by tiny brides, and the favors were rose-hung baskets tied with pink ribbon. The bride's place was marked by a basket tied with orange blossoms. Mr. Fred Houser was master of ceremonies, and bright toasts were offered. Songs sung and many telegrams read. After the dinner the rehearsal followed at St. Mark's church. Present at the dinner were Dr. and Mrs. Robert Barr, Miss Berenice Horton, Mr. Harry Houser, Mr. F. M. Houser, Mr. Houston Houser, Mr. William Houser, Mrs. W. W. Driskell and little Miss Driskell, Rev. M. M. Hendrix, Miss Catherine Hanis, Miss Maybelle Acker, Mr. Palmer Blackburn, Mrs. Edwin Vail, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Houser, Jr. and Mrs. Herbert Inax.

"In April."

The brilliant feature of the meeting of the Drama League at the Georgian Terrace yesterday afternoon was the reading by Rose Pastor Stokes of her play, "In April," which is being put on the stage now. The play needed no interpretation, further than the clear dramatic reading of the author. Every word was telling in force and significance, and impelled each one who heard it to work out his own convictions of what was right or what would have been right or what was the woman's right in the case, the question where a young woman is torn in spirit and love between her mother who needs her, and the man—the young woman's lover—whom she has selected to wed. Following the reading a reception was tendered Mrs. Stokes by the Drama League.

VERSATILE ARTIST COMES NEXT WEEK WITH "GYPSY LOVE"

Genius in many lines is not often heaped upon one individual. Exceptions are rules, however, and Atlanta will see such an exception Monday and Tuesday.

ARTHUR ALBRO.

day of next week. This exception excels in genius in three respects: He sings tenor with a wonderful range of voice, which has put him in grand opera. He dances with all the madness, spirit and abandon of a real Hungarian Gypsy.

He plays a violin with all the skill and appealing power of a virtuoso. What more could man want? It would seem that these three blessings would beget success for any individual. But to them another has been added in the case of the genius under dissection—that of good looks and manliness.

Atlanta will see this versatile actor at the Atlanta theater next week, when Arthur Albro, tenor, appears here with "Gypsy Love." He is the originator of the star part in that delightful musical play which Andreas Dippel, himself a famous grand opera tenor, is sending to this city.

TECH MARIONETTES TO GIVE NEW PLAY AFTER CHRISTMAS

The members of the Tech Dramatic club, better known as the Tech Marionettes, are now getting ready to begin work on a new play. They have decided to stage only one play in 1916-17, but to concentrate on that one and make it decidedly the best thing they have yet done. This play, they hope to put on the stage in Atlanta in the early part of April and later to carry it on the road for about a week's trip. Miss Caroline Cobb will, as in the past, direct the work of the club. She has spent quite a while in searching for a play which will be suitable for the Tech organization and, while she has not as yet made her decision, she will do so within the next few days. She will then cast the play before the Christmas holidays and the Marionettes will begin work.

ERWIN ELECTED HEAD OF CLEARING HOUSE

Thomas C. Erwin, vice president of the Third National bank, will be the 1917 president of the Atlanta Clearing association. The election was held Tuesday by the members of the association and Mr. Erwin chosen to succeed Robert F. Maddox, retiring president.

Dr. W. J. Blalock, president of the Fulton National, was elected vice president; George R. Donovan, vice president of the Atlanta National, was elected treasurer, and Darwin G. Jones was re-elected manager and secretary. Mr. Jones has filled his position since the association was organized.

The new officials will take office January 1.

General Hints About The Care of the Hair

The hair should be properly combed and brushed every day. The daily wetting of the scalp is detrimental to the growth of the hair; it removes the natural greasiness and causes the hair to become dry and brittle. A shampoo in a fortnight for adults is necessary. In order to remove the accumulation of dirt, and keep the pores open. For this, lukewarm water and Saponified Coconut Oil is recommended: 25 cents at Jacobs' Pharmacy. Comb and brush should be kept scrupulously clean, and no other person should be allowed to use them, and should be sterilized by washing in boiling water occasionally. —(adv.)

WAGES ARE INCREASED BY GULF REFINING CO.

Port Arthur, Texas, December 13.—The Gulf Refining company today announced that, effective December 14, the wages of its white employees would be increased 30 cents a day, and its negro workmen 30 cents. The advance is intended to offset the increased cost of living. More than 2,000 are affected.

IMMIGRATION AGENT IS HUNTED IN FLOYD

Rome, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)

State and county authorities here are on the trail of a colored immigration agent from Dayton, Ohio, who is endeavoring to get Floyd county negroes to migrate to that point. Promises of permanent employment at high wages and short hours are being made and it is reported that many negroes are leaving the city and county.

Jefferson, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)—In the recent municipal election W. H. Smith was elected mayor, and J. Z. Carter councilman from the second ward, and Curtis Alexander councilman from the fourth ward.

MOTHER CLARE HEADS SISTERS OF MERCY

Savannah, Ga., December 13.—Mother Clare, stationed at Savannah, who before taking her vows as a sister of mercy was known as Miss Marie Beaty, of Savannah, has been elected mother superior of the order in Georgia. Her jurisdiction covers the entire state, except the convent at Racoon. Mother Clare succeeded Rev. Mother Genevieve who died six weeks ago after a long service in the capacity of mother superior. The election was by ballot.

FARMS ARE PLANNED FOR BELGIAN CHILDREN

Anna Eva Fay Comes to Atlanta in Effort to Interest Women of South.

Miss Anna Eva Fay, of Boston, humanitarian, vegetarian and "Big Sister" to the entire world, who is planning to establish a farm in New Hampshire where she will educate and "mother" helpless children of Belgium, is in Atlanta today taking the first step in her effort to interest women of the south in her plan to establish similar farms all over the United States. She will leave for Augusta tomorrow. Miss Fay says that she has been prompted to take this step because the children of Belgium are maimed and helpless as the result of the world war and are being reared to think of nothing else save that of "killing another." She declares that if some assistance is not given Belgium a race of murderers will result. "It is the duty of Americans to help prevent the inevitable," she says. She has just returned to the United States from a visit to Belgium and Russia. Miss Fay declares that no American can realize the hardship Belgium is experiencing. Many of the children are crippled, some half-blind, one-armed and half-starved, she says. About thirty children will be brought into the United States from Belgium next April by Miss Fay and given a home on her New Hampshire farm. As soon as the children are old enough and able to care for themselves positions will be secured for them. After visiting Augusta and New Orleans, where she will go from Atlanta, she will go to Texas and try to interest Texans in her plan.

SEAT OR NO SEAT, CAR PASSENGERS MUST PAY FARES

It doesn't make any difference whether you get a seat or not, you've either got to pay your fare or get off the street car, is the interpretation of the Georgia supreme court upon this much mooted question among "strap-hangers."

The decision to the foregoing effect was handed down Wednesday in the case of Rossman vs. the Georgia Railway & Power company. It appears that a passenger boarded a Stone Mountain car and because he could get no seat in the crowded car declined to pay his fare. He also declined to get off, and the conductor proceeded to put him off at some distance from any regular stopping place. The court held that under such circumstances a passenger may be ejected in some such place as will not imperil the life or limb of the passenger, and that sufficient force, but no more, may be used for his ejection.

BRANHAM SPEAKS TODAY TO THE GIRLS AT BRENAU

Hon. Henry Branham, attaché of the state department of agriculture and well known orator, left last night for Gainesville where he has been invited to deliver an address before the young women of Brenau college today. Mr. Branham said he will speak of "Woman and Agriculture."

Hold Dear the Memory Of Veterans of South, Governor Urges Sons

Camp John B. Gordon, No. 48, Sons of Confederate Veterans, met at the Hotel Ansley Wednesday at 1 o'clock for luncheon. Much enthusiasm was expressed in the reorganization of the camp which took place recently.

Governor Nat E. Harris was the honored guest of the occasion, and spoke with fervor of the days of the sixties and of the merit of preserving the memories of those strenuous and heroic days. He urged the younger men to get ready to carry on the work of handing down the traditions of the old south and paying tribute to the Confederate veterans, who, he said, are now passing.

"It will not be long now before the camp fires which we build at every reunion will have died out, and there will be only the ashes left," said he. "Let the younger men hold dear the memory of those heroes in gray who fought for a cause so great. When I campaigned for governor in 1914 I went over the state wearing my bronze crosses as a Confederate veteran to show whether the young men were still clinging to the old cause. I found many who were."

Besides the governor, Dr. Richard Orme Flinn, Dr. J. A. Gentry, James L. Moore, J. McSwain Woods, John Ashley Jones and R. Low Reynolds gave short talks. It was announced that the United Daughters of the Confederacy would give a musical at the Elizabeth Mather school on Saturday, at which time a free-will offering would be taken up for the widows of Confederate veterans.

The officers of the John B. Gordon camp are: J. McSwain Woods, commander; R. Low Reynolds, lieutenant commander; John Ashley Jones, treasurer; W. F. Williams, treasurer; Dr. Richard Orme Flinn, chaplain; Dr. John Allen Gentry, surgeon; McSwain Gentry, quartermaster; Henderson Hallman, color bearer; H. Frank West, lieutenant commander; and Lucian L. Knight, historian.

August Bradley, a medical student of Orangeburg, N. Y., and son of Dr. Hugh Bradley, of Wellesville, has received a license to practice medicine, making the fifth doctor in his family. For more than a century there has been a doctor in the Bradley family.

FOOD AND COAL MEN FACING INDICTMENT

Cleveland, Ohio, December 13.—Federal grand jurors have been called to consider indictments against Cleveland food and coal dealers for violation of the anti-trust law. The grand jury investigation, the first in the country outside of New York, will begin next Monday morning.

This announcement was made today by United States District Attorney Weris at the close of an all-day conference with George W. Anderson, special assistant to the attorney general, and Charles de Woody, special agent of the department of justice.

This will be the first gun fired by the federal government in the middle west against the high cost of living. It came within a few hours after the arrival in Cleveland of Anderson, who stopped here first in his tour of cities included in the scope of the special food investigation ordered by President Wilson.

Twenty-five witnesses were subpoenaed tonight for the inaugural of the grand jury investigation, which is likely to last two weeks. They include food dealers of various classes, cold storage men, coal dealers and representatives of railroads involved in the recent coal famine. Mr. Anderson left tonight for Chicago, leaving the investigation in the hands of local officials.

REAL BATTLE SCENES—THRILLING EFFECTS

A FEW OF THE MANY SCENES DEPICTED

It is possible to mention in this space only a few of the many important features that depict with startling vividness the titanic struggle of mere man against modern machine warfare. We bring this to the land of liberty so that the scenes may live forever in its memory.

KING GEORGE, LORD KITCHENER, GENERAL JOFFRE, LLOYD-GEORGE, THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT, CZAR NICHOLAS AND OTHER DIGNITARIES AND WAR LORDS.

FRENCH SOLDIERS DEFENDING A BRIDGE FROM ONCOMING HUNS.

A GREAT ZEPPELIN SAILING OVER PARIS AND THE DISASTROUS DESTRUCTION IT EFFECTS.

ENGLISH SOLDIERS THROWING HAND GRENADES FROM THE TRENCHES, BOTH BY HAND AND FROM SLINGS.

THE FIGHT BETWEEN TWO OPPOSING AEROPLANES THOUSANDS OF FEET UP IN THE AIR AND THE VANQUISHED HURLED TO EARTH AND CRUSHED LIKE AN EGG SHELL.

TORPEDOES HURLED FROM DESTROYERS ON THEIR MISSION OF DESTRUCTION AGAINST ANTAGONISTS. STRIKING AND SINKING A GREAT MAN-O-WAR.

WOUNDED SOLDIERS BEING CARRIED OUT OF THE TRENCHES UNDER FIRE.

THE SHELLING AND BOMBARDING OF THE DARDANELLES.

THE EFFECT AND AFTERMATH OF THE BATTLE. THE SKY AND A THIN COVERING OF SNOW THE LAST RESTING PLACE OF THOSE MEN WHO HAVE GIVEN UP THEIR LIVES FOR THEIR COUNTRY WITHOUT A MURMUR.

THE BLINDED SOLDIERS RECEIVING THE IRON CROSS FOR THEIR SERVICES. AN HONOR THEY FEEL, BUT CANNOT SEE.

You see all this and more; pen cannot describe, language cannot describe the scenes. It is only possible by the aid of the camera equipped with the modern telescopic lense that reaches far out into the conflict, registering the awful scenes the human mind cannot retain.

There is also a prologue leading up to the events shown on the screen, and an epilogue vividly explaining what it is all about. You see it all, just as it actually happened, and is still happening every day in war-torn Europe.

THERE IS NO ROMANCE HERE. IT IS JUST PLAIN FACTS PRESENTED FOR YOUR BENEFIT.

COCK FIGHTING CHARGED IN TWO MADE SUSPECTS

Dr. Chapman and Johnson Indicted—Former Also Charged With Selling Whisky.

Americus, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)—Another sensation in the Walter Wade murder case developed here today when additional indictments were returned against two of the six men charged with the murder. The grand jury found five indictments against Dr. C. K. Chapman and two indictments against Warren I. Johnson. The indictments against Chapman charge violating the two-quart prohibition law, selling whisky, keeping whisky in a public place, betting on cocks and cock fighting. Indictments charged Johnson with cock fighting and betting on cocks.

The grand jury also returned indictments against five women charged with keeping disorderly houses. The body took a recess early tonight until next Monday morning.

Friday is set for objections to be made to Monday, December 18, as the day for beginning the trial in the Wade case.

Robert L. Berner, of Macon, is in the city, and it has been reported that his services may be engaged as counsel assisting the state.

UNINVITED GUEST NOW STAR BOARDER OF DALTON SHERIFF

Dalton, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)—The axiom that "Pools rush in where angels fear to tread" was demonstrated here recently when the home of Sheriff C. A. Connally was burglarized and a number of valuable articles stolen, including a bracelet, watch, fountain pen and other articles. Upon his return the sheriff instituted a search and soon located some of the stolen goods where they had been sold by a woman who was selling them at a very low price.

Following this clue, he followed a carnival, recently showing here, and arrived at a woman who was selling her name as George Florence, who claims to be a resident of Chattanooga. The remainder of the stolen articles were recovered from persons to whom Florence had pawned them. Secreted in his pocket was found a gold watch on which was engraved the name "Mattie Davidson."

So well did the sheriff like his uninvited guest that he has taken him on a permanent basis and will keep him until his acts are reviewed at the next term of the superior court.

MURRAY CO. FARMER CRUSHED TO DEATH BENEATH MACHINE

Dalton, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)—J. Reed, aged about 50 years, a farmer and sawmill operator, was fatally injured this morning when the car in which he and his son were riding was wrecked.

Read attempted to pass a car owned by Luke Cox and T. L. Bennett, an organizer for the Women's Suffrage World. The car collided, overturning the machine in which the Reed was riding, severely crushing the elder and slightly injuring the son. The injured man was brought to Dalton, where he died soon after his arrival. The others were not injured.

Today a hearse was carried to his home in Murray for burial tomorrow. This is the first automobile accident in this county resulting in a fatality.

PAVING BLOCKS BOUGHT IN LITHONIA FOR CUBA

Lithonia, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)—Lithonia companies have secured contracts for 3,000,000 Belgian blocks from the Lithonia Granite Co. to be used in street paving in that city. The shipments will begin early in January and will continue until the contract is divided between the Pine Mountain and Arabia quarries in the Lithonia granite section and comes at a time when the granite cutters are generally idle during the winter months.

Loss of Faith in Prospects For Peace Weakens Cotton

Rallies Follow Break of $3 a Bale in May Contracts, But General Close Was 42 to 50 Points Off.

New York, December 13.—(Special.)—Although the peace overtures have not been officially rejected, yet the calm pervading the market has left the impression that the first answer, at any rate, will be a negative one, and this has started liquidation again. Yesterday's advance eliminated the shorts who are not only by nature quick to run away from a loss, but have also a keen memory for the losses they have taken of short sellings they have committed all season. The decline in the market has caused all spot cotton to be withdrawn for the time at least, and without that pressure no further weakness seems imminent, but the decline has also served to induce shorts who are not only by nature quick to run away from a loss, but have also a keen memory for the losses they have taken of short sellings they have committed all season.

"WEAK" WANT ADS ARE POOR ECONOMY

YOUR EYE NOT DOING YOURSELF JUSTICE WHEN YOU TRY TO SAVE A FEW WORDS ON YOUR WANT AD. OFTEN-TIMES PEOPLE LEAVE OUT ONE FEATURE, TO SAVE A FEW CENTS, THAT MIGHT BE JUST THE THING THAT WOULD CLINCH THE READER—AND PROBABLY CLOSE A DEAL FOR YOU. MAKE YOUR WANT AD COMPLETE. TELL THE READERS ALL THE GOOD POINTS.

KAISER'S U-BOATS CALLED MERCIFUL

Foreign Secretary Zimmermann Says German Submarines Act in Humane Fashion—Britain Attacks.

Berlin, December 13.—(Via Sayville.) Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, secretary for foreign affairs, discussed today with a member of the staff of the Overseas News agency the impression created in Germany by the attitude of the United States toward Germany and Great Britain as outlined in the Associated Press Washington dispatch of November 19. Dr. Zimmermann said:

"As to the impression created: Almost since the beginning of the war two currents of opinion could be discerned in Germany. Judging by the rules of neutrality the United States intentionally favored Great Britain in an almost outspoken fashion, according to some; others took the view that the United States was neutral in spirit and action. The discussion between the advocates of these two opinions was sometimes very animated. The discussion was reopened by the dispatch in question. The parties and newspapers that did not believe that America was observing strict neutrality accepted the dispatch as confirmation of their opinion, and to the others the news came as a shock. In order to understand this effect one has only to recall the large number of facts which have been before the eyes of the German public during the last few years. England has repeatedly announced that all English ships ought to be ready to destroy German submarines wherever they find them. This has been publicly proclaimed, as well by private as by official persons in England. Quite recently Lord Robert Cecil, in the British parliament, gave expression to this view. The London Times of November 21 published a letter from a well known member of parliament and ship owner (Robert P. Houston), promising to every English born captain a prize of 2,000 pounds, who, with an English merchant ship destroyed a German submarine. Houston on this occasion added that English sailors ought to return to the methods of Hawkins and Drake, or should imitate the example set by Nelson in the Copenhagen case—they ought to take the sea law into their own hands. Houston was fully conscious that he advocated and advised actions contrary to the law of nations.

We further know that hostile submarines have attacked and in some cases have sunk German merchantmen without the slightest warning. Thus were sunk the German steamers Burge-meister Votmelle, Dorita, the Elbe and Hollandia. They were all attacked by enemy submarines with artillery or torpedoes without the shadow of a warning.

British U-Boat Accused.

"These facts, of course, justify the suspicion that among other German steamers which are simply overdue or have not returned several have met their end in the same fashion. In one case, that of the steamer Kolga, we know it from survivors. In this case seven human lives were lost and survivors declared that a British submarine only steered around the sinking ship without even stirring a hand towards rescue. I merely refer to this incident to show the feeling of the German population.

"Germany, on the other hand, has promised the United States to carry on submarine war according to the international rules of cruiser warfare." Dr. Zimmermann at this moment interrupted his conversation, walked through his office, stopped and in the face of the interviewer said to his clerk in an energetic manner: "This promise will have to be kept." then continued: "The orders to the commanders of our submarines are clear and strict in this direction. I can affirm with absolute certainty that no German submarine has intentionally attacked a merchant ship without warning and without giving all on board ample time and opportunity for rescue. You will have read a report about a submarine that found during stormy weather a steamer near the Spanish coast which it was intended to sink, and which waited many hours patiently because the weather made it impossible to rescue those on board. You will recall other German submarines taking the crews of torpedoed steamers on board until the sea was smooth and a passing ship could take them over."

Best Feelings for Everybody. Dr. Zimmermann paced up and down in his office and repeated: "These are the facts of the case. We are animated by the best feelings toward everybody. But we are fighting for the life and future of our nation. Everybody can understand that at such a moment one must analyze very carefully the facts and compare our attitude with that of the enemy. Of course we are off from the greater part of the communications with the outer world, especially the use of the cables. Our enemies use the cables, the mails and the spoken word in order to plead their case before the whole world. But the other nations also ought to hear our voice, our grievances. I mean by these words only mean to explain the reasons for the present popular feeling in Germany and I feel sure that it will be appreciated everywhere by all fair-minded people.

The relations which exist between Germany and the other nations are not less clear-cut and definite, the questions with the entente involving the blockade, the censorship of mails and the "blacklist."

to win victory on the battle field, will try to win by creating a wrong impression about Germany's intentions and Germany's actions in the rest of the world where Germany's voice can only seldomly be heard. They will try to persuade the world that in the case of submarines and in other cases Germany will disregard her given word, while they themselves, in fact, have abrogated the laws of nations and do themselves what they charge against us in the case of hostile submarines attacking German vessels and in attack on neutrals, as in the case of Greece.

Dispatch That Stirred Germany. The Associated Press dispatch which was the subject of Dr. Zimmermann's discussion dealt with the various questions in the international situation to which President Wilson and the state department were devoting their attention. The dispatch declared that the most spectacular and disquieting of the problems was the submarine situation. It was described as uncompromising. Ships must not be sunk without warning. The school principal, she said, should not be hampered by restriction to irksome school duties but should have a free hand for work along broader lines.

Community workers from many parts of the country talked of the school house movements and the community reports on work done by related organizations. Henry E. Jackson, of the federal bureau of education, traced the history of the community use of schools and said: "We are beginning to see that it is morally wrong to invest the people's money in school buildings and use these buildings less than half the time. We are only beginning to discover that the school house ought to be used

BUILDING IS BURNED AT CARSON-NEWMAN

Knoxville, Tenn., December 13.—The administration building of Carson-Newman college at Jefferson City, Tenn., was destroyed by fire at noon today. The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue. Carson-Newman is a Baptist co-education institution. The structure was completed in 1913 at a cost of $80,000. It was insured for $25,000. Contents of the building were saved. There was no loss of life and no one was injured in the fire. College work will not be interrupted. Arrangements are being made to replace the buildings destroyed.

MISS MARGARET WILSON TO COMMUNITY WORKERS

Washington, December 13.—Use of the country's schools for all branches of community work was urged today by Miss Margaret Wilson, the president of the American Civic association. The school principal, she said, should not be hampered by restriction to irksome school duties but should have a free hand for work along broader lines. Community workers from many parts of the country talked of the school house movements and the community reports on work done by related organizations. Henry E. Jackson, of the federal bureau of education, traced the history of the community use of schools and said: "We are beginning to see that it is morally wrong to invest the people's money in school buildings and use these buildings less than half the time. Montevallo coal is mined by three companies in an area comprising twenty-five square miles. We have a competitor who claims a monopoly of the sale of Montevallo in Atlanta. According to our understanding, their contract covers ONLY Aldrich Montevallo coal.

The fuel we sell is genuine Straven MONTEVALLO mined by the Montevallo-Shelby Coal Company, and every lump is guaranteed by them.

If the coal mined by the Montevallo-Shelby Coal Co. is not genuine Montevallo, the company responsible for the advertisement which recently appeared in the newspapers should seek an injunction restraining them from marketing coal under the name MONTEVALLO. They will gain nothing by "knocking" a competitor.

Anyone buying Montevallo of us who is not fully satisfied that it is genuine Montevallo can return the coal and we will gladly refund the money.

We have sold many carloads of Montevallo. Our customers are satisfied and continually call for more.

About Your Printing

In the rush of the holiday season we often overlook important details. Your stock of stationery and printing is apt to run low, perhaps to exhaustion, before you are aware of it. Then you are still in a rush getting ready for the new year. Better get ready now. Looking over your printing stock. If it's running low, call us and we'll send a salesman right up. It's quickly done. Try it.
